Hood Promoted As Cape Kennedy Manager by IBM

The promotion of James D. Hood to personnel and administration manager at the IBM Federal Systems Division's facility at Cape Kennedy, Fla., has been announced by George W. Tempke, general manager of the IBM Systems Manufacturing Division Plant at Kingston.

In his new position, Hood will be responsible for the overall management of the Cape Kennedy facility's personnel and administration including recruitment, education, salary administration, communications, planning and resources control and other items of a support nature.

Hood joined IBM in June 1959 as a customer engineer and served in the Houston, New Orleans and Galveston areas. In 1955 he was assigned to the Endicott plant as a draftsman and was promoted to assistant supervisor of testing at Endicott in 1956.

Subsequently, Hood held various positions there including designer, project engineer, senior engineer and assistant to the

Nab First Suspect in 3 Murders Named in London Police Slayings

LONDON (AP) — Under heavy police guard, John Edward Witney today was ordered held without bail on a charge of murder in the slaying of three police detectives amid indications Scotland Yard had picked up the trail of two others wanted in the cold-blooded shootings.

Handcuffed to two plainclothesmen—colleagues of men he "with others" is accused of slaying last Friday—Witney replied to the magistrate that he had "nothing to say."

List Descriptions
Scotland Yard later issued descriptions and names of the two men who, the police said in the legal language of Britain, "they believe can help police in their inquiries."

The two wanted men are Harry Maurice Roberts, 30, and John Duddy, 38. Scotland Yard said Roberts may also use the names of Ronald Ernest Hall and John O'Brien.

Scotland Yard warned all police forces in the nation that both men were "dangerous and known to be armed."

With a gray blanket covering his head, Witney, 36, was driven to the courthouse from Shepherd's Bush police station where he has been held since Friday — the day of the shootings.

Hearing Aug. 23
The arraignment took only two minutes. Witney was ordered held without bail for a hearing Aug. 23.

The charge was placed against Witney, described as unemployed, less than 72 hours after the crime which shocked Britain.

The shooting of the three policemen Friday near Wormwood Scrubs Prison in West London.

Nickerson Out, Puts O'Connor Further Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., remained silent today rather than assume the role of kingmaker — even after the man believed to have been his favorite quit the race for the Democratic nomination to run against New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Eugene H. Nickerson, executive of Nassau County on Long Island, withdrew Monday night saying: "It is now apparent that I will not have the necessary delegate votes to win the nomination."

Not Ducking O'Connor
The withdrawal appeared to make Frank D. O'Connor, president of the New York City Council, even more of a front-runner for the gubernatorial nomination at the Democratic State Convention in Buffalo next month.

Nickerson had been considered the candidate likely to win Kennedy's backing if the senator decided to back anyone at all. But, with Kennedy silent, the failure of Nickerson's campaign to win widespread support led to the withdrawal.

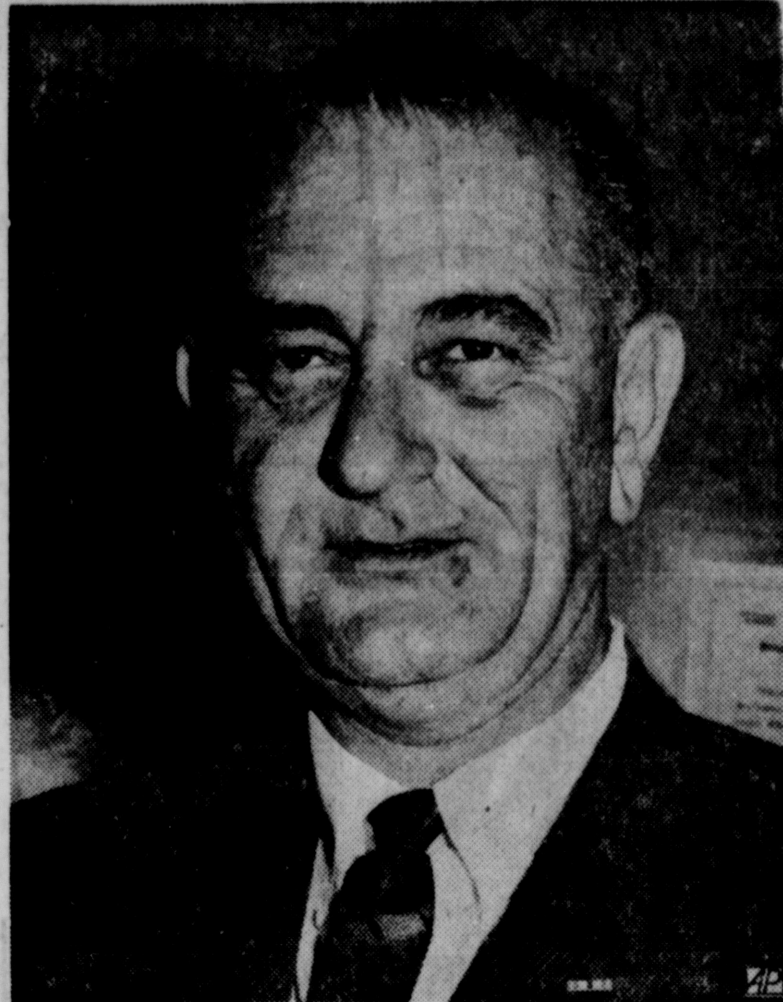

A spokesman for Kennedy said O'Connor would meet with the senator today or Wednesday. The spokesman said: "Some people are saying we're trying to duck him. Well, it just ain't so." O'Connor made a telephone request last Thursday that Kennedy make public his thoughts on the nomination.

RFK Seen As Only Block
Most observers feel that only active opposition by Kennedy could now prevent O'Connor from winning the nomination to oppose the Republican governor's bid for a third four-year term.

In addition to O'Connor, the narrowed field of announced candidates includes:

—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who beat Tammany Hall opposition and won a seat in Congress from a West Side Manhattan district.

Preparations Underway: Resnick

Tie Hospital Ceremony In Ellenville to Tour

Portions of Ulster County prepared to roll out the red carpet today with the announcement this morning that President Lyndon B. Johnson will possibly visit the Ellenville area Friday to dedicate the new Ellenville Community Hospital, which opened its doors earlier this year.

Announcement of the hoped-for visit to Ulster County by the country's commander-in-chief was made this morning by Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-28th District) at a specially called press conference at the Nevele Country Club, Ellenville.

Truman Was Last
Johnson's overnight stay in and around Ellenville would mark the first visit of a chief executive to Ulster County since former President Harry S. Truman toured here during his term of office. Truman swept through Kingston on that visit; stopped off at the Gov. Clinton Hotel here during a campaign swing he was making in behalf of Robert Morgenthau, at that time a Democratic candidate for Governor of New York State. Whether President Johnson, too, will visit Kingston, is still not known at this time.

Resnick said only at today's conference. "All preparations are going forward for a visit by

Ellenville Votes On School Budget Until 8 Tonight

Ellenville residents today started going to the polls at noon for the fourth time this year to vote on the proposed $2.2 million school budget, which has been defeated so far three times. The polls close at 8 tonight.

The budget being voted upon today is an "austerity" proposal, which means that many of the services included will be approved or disapproved by voters on separate ballots.

But the greatest portion of the austerity budget consists of "primary" features which will go into operation even if all the supplementary items are denied.

About 80 per cent of the austerity budget consists of such mandated features as higher teachers' salaries. The other 20 per cent "optional" items include $11,000 for cafeteria expenses, $10,000 for interscholastic athletic events and $62,000 for additional classrooms.

Repeated defeats of the school budget this year has been blamed on lack of confidence in the Ellenville Central School Administration, headed by Superintendent Vincent P. Gillen.

Gillen's status in the school district was a major topic of discussion early in August.

MIGs Move Deeper in Battle Zone

Note No Damage In Air Dogfight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two Communist MIGs attacked four U. S. Navy jet planes over North Viet Nam today in a short, swirling dogfight 70 miles south of Hanoi. It was the farthest, south enemy jets are known to have ventured so far in the war.

None of the planes was damaged in the encounter, the U.S. military command reported.

MIGs, Skyhawks Clash

The MIGs pounced on the carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawks with 37mm cannon fire, a spokesman said. The Skyhawks took evasive action, he said, and broke off contact.

Most of the previous aerial battles with Communist MIGs have occurred north and northwest of Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

The dogfight followed a day of near-record pounding of targets in North Viet Nam by U.S. fighter-bombers.

Navy Air Force and Marine planes flew 133 missions Monday against the Communist north, hitting 17 oil storage depots and other targets, most of them in the Haiphong area and the southern panhandle. The strikes approached the record of 139 missions flown against the north earlier this month.

In South Viet Nam, ground action dwindled to light and scattered fighting.

Even in the central highlands where a big scrap appeared to be shaping up, no contact had

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County said today he was most pleased that Governor Nelson A. Ulster Park Man Killed In Orange; Woman Hurt

An Ulster Park man became Orange County's 37th traffic death of the year and a Saugerties woman who was a passenger in his car was injured as the result of a two-car mishap that occurred early this morning on Route 32 near Central Valley.

Dead on arrival at Cornwall Hospital was Duane Mogan, 30, of Ulster Park. A passenger, Joyce Rooney, 37, Saugerties, was treated for multiple abrasions.

State Police at Central Valley said the car Mogan was driving north on Route 32 ran into the rear of another vehicle driven by John Trojan, 26, of Highland Mills about 3:20 a. m. Monday.

Trojan was apparently attempting a left turn when his car was struck by Mogan's vehicle, troopers said. Trojan was injured in both legs and treated at Cornwall Hospital.

Troopers added that Mogan's car skidded off the roadway along the shoulder and proceeded into a wooded area where it turned on its side. Both occupants were ejected.

Mogan, formerly of RD 4, Box 305, Saugerties, was born in Poughkeepsie and had been a resident of the Kingston area for many years. He was an

Machinists Get Details of Pact, To Vote Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking mechanics receive today details of a tentative agreement aimed at ending by Friday the shutdown of five major airlines.

The idled airlines said they could resume some flights this weekend if the agreement is approved by the strikers at meetings across the nation Friday. The strike is now in its 40th day.

Called Best Ever

P. L. (Roy) Siemiller, president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, called the settlement, reached about dawn Monday, "the best ever in one set of negotiations by any union."

Details of the contract were to remain secret until the 35,400 strikers received a letter from Siemiller in which he said he recommended ratification of the agreement reached with the airlines — Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United.

Informed sources said, however, the contract was a three-year package worth about $90 million — an estimated 8 per cent increase for the machinists.

This would mean a $1 per hour increase over three years for top mechanics now earning $3.52 per hour plus benefits that bring the total to $4 per hour.

No White House Comment

The agreement is believed also to contain a cost-of-living wage escalator clause, a key union demand. Lack of such a clause reportedly was instrumental in union rejection of an agreement negotiated under White House auspices July 29. The White House had no comment on the new agreement.

Officials believe another reason for the 3-1 vote against the first agreement was lack of understanding of its provisions.

In an effort to get a speedy ratification of the July 29 agreement only terse telegrams were sent to the locals and the vote was taken two days later.

This time, however, Siemiller mailed personal letters to all striking union members for

Car Fails On Turn, Hits Porch

Pa. Couple Killed, 9th, 10th for Aug.

The list of persons killed on Ulster County highways jumped to 41 Monday as a Pennsylvania man and his wife met their deaths in a fatal ride that ended when their car missed a left turn on Route 209 and ran up the front porch of a house near Stone Ridge.

Killed instantly was Warren Cornell, 50, of Honesdale, Pa. His wife, Elizabeth, 37, was dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital, shortly after the mishap, which occurred at 6:25 p. m.

Day of Tragedy

Their deaths climaxed a whole day of tragedy on the roads in this county which started when Otto Rohmann, 57, of High Woods died in an accident on Glasco Turnpike Monday morning and became Ulster's 39th traffic fatality.

His wife, Elizabeth Rohmann, 50, and Christa Maria Steffens, 22, of Germany, a passenger were listed in critical condition today at Kingston Hospital.

According to Ellenville State Police, the vehicle in which Warren and Elizabeth Cornell were riding was traveling south on Route 209 at dusk Monday about two miles south of Stone Ridge when it failed to negotiate a left turn and ran off the right side of the roadway.

Was Occupied Earlier

The car skidded off 209 and headed for the front porch of a house belonging to Frank B. Rogers of Brooklyn. A few moments before the wreckage,

Permit Annual Filing of Sales Tax Under $50

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Businessmen who collect less than $50 a year in state and local sales taxes will have to file returns only once a year from now on, the State Tax Department announced today.

They had been required to file quarterly returns, regardless of how much tax money they took in.

The change in policy was announced by Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy, who signed a regulation that he said would affect about 130,000 small businessmen in this state.

The new rule goes into effect with the tax year running from June 1, 1966, through May 31, 1967. Only one report will be required, and it will be due by June 20, 1967.

Murphy said a businessman would qualify under the new rule if he collected less than $50 during the four quarterly periods that ended May 31, 1966, and if he expected his tax receipts would not exceed $50 in the new tax year.

During the 1966 session of the Legislature, the Republican-controlled Senate passed a bill that would have eased the reporting requirement for merchants in the same category. But the measure died in committee in the Democratic-ruled Assembly. Murphy said today that, after the Senate acted, he notified the Assembly that the Tax Commission had discretionary power to change the reporting rule itself and that it intended to do so.

Montgomery Clift Is Remembered As Troubled Man

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Memories of Montgomery Clift—

It was saddening to read while on a Hawaiian vacation that Montgomery Clift had died of a heart ailment at 46. It was poignant, too, since Hawaii had been the locale for one of the actor's greatest portrayals, Pruitt in "From Here to Eternity."

The untimely death seemed to follow the same pattern of other Hollywood figures — Marilyn Monroe, Mario Lanza, etc. — whose personal troubles impaired their professional careers.

No one, except perhaps a few close friends, knew what it was that bedeviled Clift. Whatever the cause, he suffered periods of neurotic and unpredictable behavior. In the end he became almost unemployable by film companies.

Like his friend Marlon Brando, Clift was a Broadway name who became a star from his first film, "The Search" did it for Clift, but it was "Red River" that firmly established him as a screen personality. His sensitive but masculine cowpoke was a perfect counterpoint to John Wayne's bluster.

From then he had his pick of roles, and he chose with care: "The Heiress," "The Big Lift," "A Place in the Sun." He barely made "From Here to Eternity."

The actor continued to make his home in New York. "I like California, but the climate isn't conducive to work," he explained. He continued to be selective in his films; he made only 16 in his 18 years in motion pictures.

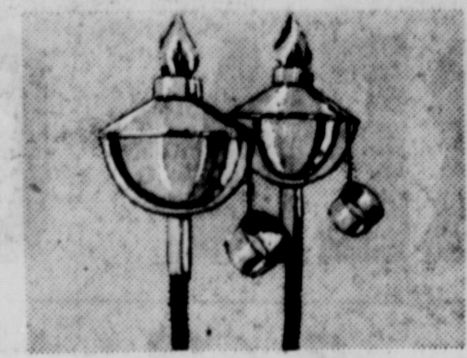

A change in Clift's fortunes seemed to take place after his serious car accident in 1956. Driving home from a gay party at the home of Elizabeth Taylor and her husband Michael Wilding, he crashed his sedan into a transformer pole. His nose was broken and his face cut.

The actor was in the middle of filming "Reflections in a Golden Eye," which was delayed until his face healed. But he didn't look the same as before. He seemed gaunt and hurt.

Clift was to star this fall in "Reflections in a Golden Eye" with Elizabeth Taylor, who had remained a sympathetic friend. But his death brought an end to a career that was both brilliant and tragic.

T.H.E. Cat Looms As Sure Bet to Enliven Schedule

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You loved Cary Grant in "To Catch a Thief," didn't you? and "Peter Gunn" and dear old Raffles? Well then, it's a cinch that "T.H.E. Cat," a new NBC entry, will enliven your Friday nights.

The half-hour show, in spite of its tongue-in-cheek title, is carefully designed to combine a lot of tired and true romantic ingredients carefully stirred into an action story.

Emphasize Blood Ties

Blood ties between the series and the old Hitchcock movie thriller are being artfully emphasized. Robert Loggia, who plays the title role, has enjoyed the skilled services of the studio in a general appearance that strongly suggests Cary Grant. But when he speaks, it is with the unimpeachable accents of a native New Yorker.

"T.H.E. Cat," is the fanciful name of the hero, Thomas Hewitt Edward Cat — who by marvelous coincidence is a former circus aerialist turned cat burglar turned professional bodyguard.

The action is based, as it was in "Peter Gunn," another slick bodyguard, in an unnamed city which is obviously San Francisco. And, like Peter Gunn, his headquarters are a fascinating, dimly lighted night club.

This is called Casa del Gato, or, in formal translation from the Spanish, House of the Cat, a name which the NBC censors presumably have inspected and okayed.

Loggia, another of the growing group of Actors' Studio alumni who have leaped happily into television, has been a successful character actor in all three theatrical mediums but a romantic lead is a new adventure.

He is a man of medium height, compactly built, who moves with the silky ease of a dancer or trained athlete — obviously one of the reasons he was picked for the assignment.

The Manhattan-born actor was between scenes of an episode in which he was saving a kidnapped child the other day, whiling away the time in his trailer dressing room by reading Bernard Berenson's memoirs.

No Gimmicks, Really
"Well, it may be compared to 'To Catch a Thief,'" he observed. "But I like to think that, in the action, we're getting back to the athletic sort of thing Douglas Fairbanks Sr. did so marvelously in those old romantic movies."

Loggia, his wife and three children, have moved into a rented house here but cautiously have subtlet their New York apartment. No one can really tell in advance about the success — or failure — of a television series.

Desi Arnaz, whose talent for business is often credited for the initial success of "I Love Lucy," comes back to television next year as the producer of a half-hour comedy series starring Carol Channing.

The show will be written by a pair of veteran "I Love Lucy" writers, filmed with the live-on-tape, three-camera techniques and shot in one of the Desilu studios over which Arnaz once ruled with his then wife, Miss Ball.

Costs Revealed For Hydrogen Bomb Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has paid off the Navy for that splendid bit of fishing for a hydrogen bomb off Spain last April.

A Pentagon spokesman said today the settlement came to $5.34 million, which the Air Force paid the Navy by check.

This may be a decent wage for hauling up a supervaluable hydrogen bomb from 2,500 feet deep in the Mediterranean Sea. It comes out to around $65,000 a day, considering that the nuclear device was missing for 80 days after it was dropped from a disintegrating B52.

The approved billing isn't a great deal more than the $5 million claim posted against the U.S. government by lawyers for Spanish fisherman Simo Orts, proclaimed as "the hero of the recovery" by U.S. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke.

Orts saw the parachute floating the bomb after the B52 and a KC135 tanker collided. He told authorities it went that way.

It remained for the Navy to haul it up after an extensive sea bottom search.

By joint service agreement, the Air Force was obliged to pay for the cost of recovery. After all, it was an Air Force bomb, signed for by the pilot of the B52 before he took off on what the United States called a training flight.

Actually, it was one of the daily flights by nuclear bomb-equipped planes the United States keeps airborne — just in case.

The cost of recovery, a spokesman said, included billing for the special equipment that was used and other "out of pocket expenses." But not figured in was the cost of normal operation of 15 or so naval ships nor salaries for scores of naval personnel who participated in the search.

At the end of the fiscal year, the spokesman said, the Air Force came across with the check which covered these major items:

Oceans Systems Inc. — which leased the shallow-water operating submersible, the Cubmarine — $1.84 million.

Aluminaut, the deep-water submersible which, with the Navy's snub-nosed Alvin, played a key role in locating the bomb on the murky sea floor, $585,000.

The Mizar, an oceanographic research ship, $150,000.

The surveying ship Dutton, $348,000.

That amounts to about $2.92 million, which leaves an unexplained balance of about $2.42 million — "out of pocket expenses," you know.

SOVIET HAND IN VIET NAM

It is disquieting to learn that various types of Soviet military equipment not heretofore used by the Communists in Viet Nam have recently been found on the battlefield. The capture of this equipment from North Vietnamese troops which have come down across the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam may indicate that Moscow is stepping up its aid to those opposing our forces.

The disclosure is even less comforting if one considers it in the light of Premier Kosygin's remarks before the Supreme Soviet early this month. Kosygin stated, it is true, that Moscow "pursues and will go on pursuing a policy of peace and peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems, a policy of easing international tension." That sounds promising. But Kosygin also said this:

"I would like to assure the deputies of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. that the Soviet government will do everything in its power to help the Vietnamese people to drive the American invaders away from the Vietnamese soil at the earliest possible date." He said further: "Although the Soviet Union has no common frontier with Viet Nam . . . it is rendering the gallant Vietnamese people steadily increasing economic and military, material and moral support . . ."

These assertions may be in part discounted as propaganda for domestic consumption, and to present the Communist world with a picture of the Soviet Union doing all it can for embattled Communists elsewhere. It would be foolish, however, to view Kosygin's remarks entirely in that light.

The fact is that increasing amounts of Soviet and Red Chinese equipment are turning up among the enemy in Viet Nam. That lends omniscient credibility to Kosygin's threat. It is a threat whose possible ramifications must be carefully pondered.

POLICE IN THE MAKING

In three major cities in the United States special training programs are making it possible for high school dropouts to become policemen. This follows recognition of the need to secure more non-white law enforcement officers in cities with a high concentration of non-white inhabitants.

The need is particularly acute in Los Angeles. Here officials hope to specially train 300 non-white recruits for the Watts and East Los Angeles areas to supplement the 400 Negroes and Mexican-Americans already on the force.

In New York City 1,100 potential policemen who cannot now pass police examinations are enrolled in special training courses. High school graduates attended for six months. The 800 'cadets' who did not complete 12th grade receive six months' extra training devoted to preparation for high school equivalency tests.

St. Louis is recruiting applicants for a similar program. Cleveland, Cincinnati and Baltimore are considering the same. Financing comes from the Manpower Development and Training Act fund of the Department of Labor.

Prospects for the success of the program are good. Six of the first New York City group took their police examinations before the end of the course and passed. Yet even if the training does not add many non-whites to the police rosters around the nation, it still will have prepared a sizable number of school dropouts for a better life than they would have had without it.

REBUFF TO SUKARNO

A further indication as to who is the real boss in troubled Indonesia is to be found in the cabinet's decision favoring a peaceful settlement of the undeclared war against Malaysia. President Sukarno stridently continues to assert that he is still in power. In his diatribe at the convening of the cabinet late in July, he was all for carrying on his "crush Malaysia" policy. But now the cabinet has quietly rejected this belligerent position.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
IS THE "LBJ LABEL" BECOMING A DETRIMENT?

They keep saying that "local issues" have been the determining factors in some of the recent Democratic upsets in the primaries. But when a "local issue" recoils in fairly quick succession against three incumbent U. S. Senators who were running with the Lyndon Johnson brand on them, it is perhaps inevitable that the defeats, in the eyes of skeptics on Capitol Hill, should be attributed more to the "LBJ" common denominator element than to purely local troubles.

Capitol Hill critics of Johnson began to put two and two together, as they see it, when Senator Ross Bass of Tennessee lost out in the Democratic Senatorial primary to Governor Frank G. Clement. Bass, as was noted some time ago in this column, was in bad with a number of his constituents because he had voted in the Senate for repeal of 14 (b), the section of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits Tennessee, among other states, to retain its own right-to-work law. While Lyndon Johnson was never particularly fervent about repeal of 14 (b), the effort to legislate universal compulsory unionism was still rated as an Administration measure by a crucial number of Tennesseans. What seems to complete the picture in the Tennessee situation is that Clement had gone around the State telling the people that Bass was a "rubber stamp for LBJ."

In the Tennessee gubernatorial primary Buford Ellington, who managed to beat a "Kennedy man," began his campaign by offering himself as the "friend of the President," but he quickly changed his tune when this seemed to be getting him little yardage. It could be that Ellington won solely because his opponent, John J. Hooker Jr., ran with the Bobby Kennedy label on him. Bobby and Lyndon are about equally popular, or unpopular, in Tennessee.

The licking taken by Ross Bass in the Tennessee primary caused a quick reassessment of the July defeat of incumbent Senator A. Willis Robertson by William B. Spong Jr. in the Virginia primary polls. Everyone had been saying that Robertson lost because of his age and the fact that the "bankers were for him." But now it is being whispered that Robertson missed out by a hair (or the lost by a mere 611 votes) because he had the "LBJ brand" on him as chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Robertson had gone along with the fiscal and monetary policies of Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler, his fellow Virginian, and these policies, as it has seemed to the anti-LBJ element on the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, have obstructed the flow of capital in America without doing a good compensating job of either paying for the Vietnamese War or stemming the snowballing inflation. Whether it is significant or not, young Harry Byrd, who was running for the other Virginia Senatorial seat, did not seek out any White House blessing. Byrd won.

Going back still further into the recent past, there is the June defeat of incumbent Senator Donald S. Russell in the South Carolina primary. Russell had originally gone to the Senate to fill out a portion of the term of Senator Olin D. Johnston, who died in 1965. He was, in effect, a "self-appointed" man, for he had resigned as Governor of the State with the full assurance that his successor would name him to the vacant Senate seat. Russell's opponent in the June primary, former Governor Ernest F. Hollings, made great forensic capital by talking of Russell as a "drop-out governor" as well as a "self-appointed Senator." The fact that Russell has been known as "LBJ's friend," where Hollings was a friend of the late John F. Kennedy, did not openly figure in the campaign. But now Russell's friends in Washington are saying that the "LBJ label" constituted a fatal drag on the Russell chances.

Whether the "LBJ brand" was the common denominator in the rejection of three incumbent Democratic Senators is a question that cannot easily be answered. But the apparent emergence of a pattern is disturbing to Democrats such as Senator Lee Metcalf of Montana and Governor Pat Brown of California, who aren't noticeably going out of their way to ask White House help in their autumn legislative campaigns.

Treatment or Surgery Can Relieve Hiatus Hernia

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What causes hiatus hernia and what is the treatment for it?

A—A hiatus hernia, also called diaphragmatic hernia, is an upward protrusion of the stomach through the diaphragm. It may be caused by progressive weakness of the diaphragm due to age or by obesity.

In about half of the victims there are no symptoms and the condition is discovered only when the stomach is X-rayed for some unrelated complaint. In the rest of the victims the acids of the stomach in the herniated portion gain easy access to the esophagus and irritate the latter organ.

An important part of the treatment is to bring the body weight down to or slightly below the normal level. This permits the herniated stomach to slide down to its normal position more readily. A bland diet, supplemented by antacids and other drugs commonly used in the treatment of peptic ulcers, is helpful.

When these measures fail to give complete relief, cutting the phrenic nerve, which controls the diaphragm, usually helps. Some surgeons also cut the vagus nerve because this reduces the production of acid in the stomach. As a last resort, operative closure of the hernia may be necessary. This results in complete cure in about 85 per cent of cases.

Q—Last December I had a bad attack of gout. My doctor gave me Colbenemid and it hasn't bothered me since. My doctor told me to take two of the pills daily from now on. Would the gout return if I stopped taking the pills?

A—Since gout is caused by an error in your metabolism, it can be controlled but not cured. The best treatment is a combination of colchicine and probenecid and that is what you are now taking. If you discontinue the drug your attacks surely will return.

Q—Is it harmful for a man with gout to drink beer?

A—Alcohol will not affect your gout but it does damage to your liver unless used in moderation—not more than two or three bottles of beer a day and preferably not every day.

Q—My doctor says I have Mikulicz's disease. What causes it and what is the treatment?

A—This disease, also known as Sjogren's syndrome is characterized by dryness of the eyes and mouth and chronic arthritis. The cause is unknown. Eye drops of methylcellulose and a throat spray of the same drug help to relieve the dryness. The arthritis is treated in the same way as rheumatoid arthritis.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Malik, who took over after the Communists' bid for power was bloodily denied last October, have prevailed. It is expected that the dispute will be settled this month.

In thus giving the "crush Malaysia" policy the coup de grace, the cabinet has improved the chances for stability in Southeast Asia. It has also made it clear that Sukarno, though he is retained as a figurehead, is without actual power.

"A fine Limoges diner service of 111 pieces . . . a superb XIX Century Meissen drum clock . . . Rosenthal and other porcelains . . . antique French and Italian bronze figure groups . . .

Men who know Cuba's art treasure say that some of the pieces offered are from the Havana Museum, some from the private collections of Cubans whose houses were looted of their treasures by Castro's government.

The current consignment being auctioned in several Canadian cities, is valued at upwards of $1 million.

Two other shipments—one to Switzerland and one to Italy—were valued at $2 million.

The poor Cuban sugar crop, the fall of price of sugar on the world markets and the Soviet lock on most Cuban sugar exports have combined to make Fidel Castro desperate for Western currencies—so desperate he's selling treasures.

With Cuba's foreign exchange dwindling, a number of Western countries which have been supplying Cuba with goods for cash, barter or credit have lost interest in dealing with Havana.

Because of quite negotiations by American and free Cuban representatives, other countries recently have reduced their buying from Cuba and turned to other suppliers.

This is making Castro even more dependent on the Soviet bloc, Moscow, taking advantage of this dependence, is squeezing Castro even tighter economically.

The Russians are systematically stripping Cuba in payment for what they're supplying Castro. This adds further to Cuba's economic problems.

Work is under way here on plans to step up these Cuban economic problems a little more. economic problems a little more.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

There has been so much said lately about Kingston Point Park, and for two summers men have been there cutting the brush and otherwise getting it in shape. The memory of Kingston Point Park as it was in the trolley car days, cannot of course come back. This is a different world. There was a caretaker in the summer during the day, who walked around and watched that no one even touched a flower on a bush. Nights and winters the park was untouched by the hand of a vandal through the years, until a few years ago. The time, labor and taxpayers money which will be poured into the park if they really mean to bring it back to the magnificence it was in those years should be safely and carefully invested and protected by those who receive a salary and are in power.

Kingston Point Park was designed by Downing Vaux, who lived for several years at the YMCA in Kingston. He died on May 15, 1926. He also designed Downing Park in Newburgh and Riverside Drive in New York City. Mr. Vaux designed this Kingston Point Park in 1897, which then consisted of three islands in a lagoon made from dredged material, the bandstand being one of them, called Harmony Island. All the gravel walks also had names. The trolley-shed was known as The Plaza. Historically Kingston Point Park was known as Columbus Point, where there was a ferry from that point to Dutchess County shore run by horsepower. The British landed at Columbus Point, October 1777 to burn Kingston, because they felt "it was a nest of rebels" and was the first capital of New York State. Here the laws were made, many still in force.

Kingston Point Park was designed by Downing Vaux, which is true, but conceived by Samuel H. Cuykendall, of whom it was said that "when he does things he does them right and does not spare expenses." The park did not cost the taxpayer one Indian penny. It was privately owned and run, and there was no admission charge. When it was under this control of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad of which C. Gordon Reel was general manager, there was artistic landscaping, lagoons, motor and row boats, summer houses, bandstand in the center of the lagoon, with a sand beach for the small children, a merry-go-round for which there was a small charge for a ride. There were moving pictures, a flag-staff electrically lighted, and a landing place for the Hudson River Day Line Steamers. The people coming off the boats could take Ulster and Delaware trains to the Catskills.

In 1901 there was an item in the local paper that they had evening band concerts at Kingston Point Park from 7:30 to 9:30 and Sundays from 2:30 to 4:30. The merry-go-round had its own music when it was running. The times and people needed Kingston Point Park, with its Day-

Today in National Affairs

Johnson Is Having Trouble Passing Rights Legislation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A political party may have as much as an approximately two-thirds majority in both houses of Congress and still fail to pass bills recommended by a president who is of the same party.

A bipartisan coalition is today emerging in Congress and is proving that extremism cannot command a majority. President Franklin D. Roosevelt found this to be true when he unsuccessfully sought a law to permit him to "pack" the supreme court with justices of his own political thinking. President Johnson now is losing his majority on some issues under the heading of "Civil Rights" because he has recommended the passage of a law which would interfere with the right of citizens to dispose of their property to whomever they please. Authority was given two years ago to Mr. Johnson to use the grant or withholding of federal funds as a means of controlling the educational system of the states, and this, too, is currently producing widespread dissatisfaction.

Resentment has grown so strong that the republicans are abandoning a temporary coalition with democrats in the north and forming one of their own. They had managed for six years to save many administration measures on "Civil Rights" from the defeats that would have ensued if dependent on the votes of democrats alone. Now a new coalition of republicans from suburban and agricultural areas in the northern and western states are joining with southern democrats and southern republicans, who think about the same on "Civil Rights."

An example of the shift in public sentiment has been noted in the reaction to some unwise statements by prominent advocates of "Civil Rights" measures. Vice President Humphrey, for instance, has been vehemently criticized for his speech on July 18 in which he said that of he were a Negro, he would have "enough spark left in me to lead a mighty good revolt." He did, of course, say also that he does not condone violence. But on August 12, while repeating that he supports the objectives to provide better living conditions for Negroes, Mr. Humphrey declared that the demonstrations "have gotten out of hand" and that "many innocent people have been hurt." He urged a cooling-off period. He said: "People are sick and tired of violence and disorder. We have laws in this country which must be obeyed."

Another statement made in mid-July didn't help to promote reconciliation. The first Negro to become a member of the president's cabinet—Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development—said at a news conference in Washington: "If the average white American put himself in the shoes of the black American, he would be just as angry, just as prone to violence as the Negro is today. The thing that surprises me is that it hasn't happened before."

But both Vice President Humphrey and Secretary Weaver were dealing in their July utterances with theory and abstract rights. The realistic truth in August is that the demonstrations have been revealed as tools of extremists. All the way from the making of the law to the making of the law, the demonstrators have been revealed as tools of extremists. There is proof that explosives were assembled and certain targets for their use were agreed upon in advance.

It is easy enough to brush all this aside as a natural accompaniment of street demonstrations, but undoubtedly some of the Negro leaders have overplayed their hand. Instead of reducing racial tension, the effect has been to increase it. Cries of "Black-Power" have resulted in talk of organizing "White Power" in the coming elections. These are tragic consequences and cannot but retard the adoption of measures that ought to be passed to improve the lot of the impoverished, irrespective of race or color.

An era of bad feeling has begun which may not subside for a long, long time. Congress, sensitive to the emotional reaction of the electorate, is worried as to the effect of it all on the November elections.

Victim of Sniper Leaves Hospital To Get Married

GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — "You can't keep a girl down when she's getting married," said Janet Paulos, one of the Austin sniper's victims. She left her hospital bed to plan for her wedding next week.

Janet, 20, and Abdul Kashab, 26, of Baghdad, Iraq, postponed the wedding from Aug. 20 until Aug. 27, but they'll walk down the aisle without assistance and with no bandages showing.

Going to Eat

The couple was walking toward a snack shop on Austin's main street by the University of Texas Aug. 1 when they were knocked down by Charles Whitman's bullets from the tower. "We were some of the lucky ones," Janet said, adding that neither her left shoulder or her fiancé's right elbow would be permanently impaired by the bullet wounds.

Janet was hospitalized 10 days and her fiancé 11 days. Since her return home last Wednesday, Janet says she has been running around taking care of details for what she hopes will be a quiet, simple wedding in Dallas' First Unitarian church.

Her mother has been screening most of her telephone calls, but Janet says friends and relatives she hasn't heard from in years have called to see how she is.

After their marriage, Janet and Abdul will live in Austin while she completes her senior year in history and he finishes writing his dissertation for a doctorate in organic chemistry. They plan to live eventually in Baghdad.

Senate Facing Bipartisan Move On LBJ Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate faces a bipartisan effort today to give President Johnson authority to call into service for 18 months thousands of young men now in the Ready Reserve.

The move by Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., looms as the key issue as the Senate takes up the $58-billion defense appropriation measure. Russell is chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Saltonstall its ranking Republican member.

As the law is now, the President would have to declare a state of emergency before he could summon the Ready Reserve to active duty.

But Russell, manager of the appropriation measure, calls it a scandal that "men who have enough pull to get into Reserve or National Guard units are not being sent to fight, while the man across the street who is drafted lands in Viet Nam."

Russell and Saltonstall plan to ask the Senate to include an amendment in the appropriation bill that would authorize the President — but not require him — to call up for "not more than 18 consecutive months" those ready reservists who have not served on active duty other than for a training stint.

One source estimated this would cover more than 500,000 men.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, with obvious backing of Johnson, has opposed any call up of the civilian reservists for Viet Nam duty.

But as an indication of the support Russell and Saltonstall may draw for their amendment, the Appropriations Committee voted unanimously to include in its report a demand for greater use of the reserves.

The committee said it would be "in the national interest to utilize a reasonable portion of the reserve forces of all the services" to fulfill commitments in Southeast Asia and elsewhere.

Parts of China's crowded Yangtze Valley support 3,500 people to the square mile.

30 Flee Utica Blaze, Fireman Goes to Hospital

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — About 100 firemen brought under control early today a fire that had destroyed two adjacent buildings in the downtown section.

About 30 persons were forced to flee apartments in one of the buildings when the fire broke out shortly after 7:30 p.m. Monday.

None of the residents were reported injured, but one fireman was hospitalized in good condition after suffering smoke inhalation.

There was no damage estimate.

Fire officials said the fire apparently began in the larger structure, a three story brick building containing the apartments. The second building housed businesses.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of vacationing Americans are plodding through art galleries, electronic museums, space age exhibits this month.

But the exhibits aren't publicly owned or operated. They are assembled and maintained by profit-making business firms and business groups.

Good Will and Guidance

The object: good will, instruction, product promotion and youth guidance. The accountants charge off the cost to public relations, sales or advertising.

New York City has an outstanding collection of such corporate ventures into art or scientific information. But the museums and exhibits are scattered across the land. And some of the collections have traveled through this country and foreign nations, too.

S.C. Johnson & Son of Racine, Wis., has a collection of 102 paintings by contemporary American artists that has traveled 70,000 miles on three continents and is again making its way around this country with its final resting place to be the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. The company also has built a disc-shaped theater in Racine where its World's Fair film, "To Be Alive" will be shown on a permanent basis.

Some 200,000 men, women and children have trooped through Borg Warner's Science Hall in Chicago to view some of the more spectacular facts about science in present-day living. Featured is a live environment movie, complete with sounds, varying temperatures, humidity, lighting and odors.

Chicago also has a design center exhibit, on the order of the National Design Center in New York, showing the works of designers, manufacturers and architects in both interior and exterior building design.

Banks in Picture, Too

In New York's Times Square, Allied Chemical uses three floors of its office building for an exhibit center. So far this year 400,000 persons have viewed futuristic or down-to-earth exhibits, ranging from a moon city, fashion shows, to a film of modern farming methods.

New York banks go in for exhibits open to the public. Some offer museums of banking and currency history, collections of old and new coins, art galleries or collections of ship models.

All this is repeated many times over all around the United States, as more and more corporations find that a tour of the factory, or an exhibit of the art and science of present day America is an attraction that pays off in good will — and, hopefully, in sales.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

Carlo Hertel, of Tuckers Corners Road, last week received word of the death of his brother, Oscar P. Hertel, at Hawthorne, Calif. Mr. Hertel had owned and operated a machine shop for 15 years in Hawthorne.

The 15th annual carnival of the Clintondale Fire Department will be held Friday and Saturday nights, Aug. 19 and 20, on the firemen's recreation field located behind the firehouse. There will be a Ferris wheel and other rides, ponies for the children, booths for amusement, foods, snacks and refreshments. On Saturday night there will be a display of fireworks at the field. The general committee is headed by Francis Gaffney, president of the company assisted by John Jacoby and Peter Guido. Larry Capozzi, chief of the department, will supervise the fireworks.

Kenneth Bragg, 60, a former resident of Clintondale died last week at the Firemen's Home in Hudson. Born here, he was the son of the late Jacob and Grace Davenport Bragg. He attended Clintondale schools, was a member of the Clintondale Volunteer Fire Department and a member of the Clintondale Methodist Church. He is survived by a brother, Raymond of Clintondale; two sisters Mrs. Idella Bolde, Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Helen Ronk, Middletown. Funeral services were held Friday from the Sutton Funeral Home in Clintondale. Burial was in Lloyd Cemetery.

Thor P. Setterlund, 78, of Poughkeepsie died at his home

Saturday after a short illness. He was the father of Howard Setterlund who lives with his family on Crescent Avenue.

Supervisor Joseph Martorana presided for the meeting of the Plattekill town board held at Ardonia Wednesday night. On Thursday night he attended a meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors in Kingston.

Francis Gaffney, president of the Clintondale Fire Department, was named delegate to attend the regular August meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association at Rosendale Tuesday night when Active Hose Company will be the hosts. The September meeting will be held in New Paltz.

Dorcas Roehrs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Roehrs has been a member of the Foresters, a group of eleven Cadette Girl Scouts at Camp Wendy near Wallkill. The Foresters lived in a primitive campsite away from the rest of the camp. Two Clintondale Girl Scouts were at Camp Wendy for the third camping period, they were Cynthia Roehrs and Lois Walker.

Mrs. Margaret Dayton of Clintondale Road has been at St. Francis' Hospital with a fractured pelvis sustained in a fall at her home.

Mrs. Russell Coy of Main Street is president of the DUSO Western Horse Club that will sponsor a rodeo and horse show at the Ponderosa Ranch in Dutchess County Sept. 9 and 10.

There was a good attendance at the buffet supper served Saturday night at the Methodist Church by the women of the congregation.

The commissioners of the Clintondale Fire District have set Aug. 22 as the date when qualified voters of the district will vote on a proposition that would authorize the District to issue $95,000 in serial bonds to be used to construct a new firehouse on company property just back of the present firehouse that has been outgrown.

Adeline Roulan who teaches school in New York City is spending the summer at her home here on Main Street.

Say Indictment Faulty in Illicit Plane Sale Count

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An indictment charging a former Royal Air Force pilot with conspiring to ship seven World War II bombers out of the country is faulty and should be dismissed, the pilot's lawyer contends.

A motion for dismissal of the indictment was filed in U.S. District Court Friday, Joseph M. Ralabate, lawyer for John R. Hawke, 28, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said Monday night.

A federal grand jury indicted Hawke and four other men Oct. 8, 1965 on charges they conspired to ship the bombers from Tucson, Ariz., to Portugal without an export license or the written permission of the U.S. Department of State.

Ralabate contends the indictment was faulty at the time of Hawke's arrest Sept. 17, 1965 in Miami, Fla. The lawyer charges that the federal government made changes in the indictment, such as the serial numbers of the airplanes, after his client was arraigned.

Ralabate also has asked the government to produce all papers pertaining to Hawke's indictment, such as custom and flight records.

Both of Ralabate's requests are scheduled to be heard Aug. 29 in federal court here.

Also indicted on conspiracy charges were Keat Griggers, Jamestown, Calif., Woodrow Roderick, Tucson, Ariz., Henri de Montmarin, a French importer-exporter currently in New York City, and Gregory Board, formerly of Tucson, Ariz., whose whereabouts are unknown.

Four of the five, with the exception of Board, are free on bail and awaiting trial on Sept. 13.

Board, an Australian and naturalized U.S. citizen, has fled the country, and a warrant for his arrest has been issued, U.S. Attorney John T. Curtin said.

18-Year- Vet Is Killed in Viet

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—An Army medical corpsman, who was in the service 18 years and planned to retire in two more years, was killed in Viet Nam fighting, his mother has learned.

Pfc. John A. Cardot, 38, suffered fatal metal fragment wounds when a mine exploded Aug. 11 while he was on patrol, his mother, Mrs. Mary H. Cardot of Rochester, said Monday. Cardot enlisted in June 1948 and was a Korean War veteran who held the Korean Service medal with three Bronze Stars. He left for Viet Nam in April and was last home during Thanksgiving in 1965.

Besides his mother, Cardot is survived by his two brothers and five sisters.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Clip the threads holding the cuffs of boys' trousers and pull the cuffs down when washing them.

This will help omit the wear line, and permit the cuffs to fade with the trousers.

When the boys grow, simply press the cuffs down. They will look as if they had always been down.

Mrs. Audrey Dougherty

Also, you won't have a lint problem in the folds of the cuffs—and when you press the trousers, the cuffs will stay up just as well as when they were stitched.

And, as Mrs. Dougherty said, the slacks will look much better when you have to let the cuffs down for those boys who grow, and grow, and grow.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Most first impressions are important, so please keep your door casing clean.

Wash off fingerprints, smudges and plain gunk as often as necessary.

Whenever you ring a doorbell and stand there waiting, you wonder why many people think front doors are part of the house.

It takes so little time and effort to keep the area around your front door clean, and is a good indication what the rest of your house looks like.

Homemaker, Too

Dear Heloise:

Our kitchen is paneled with birch. I had my husband put the leftover pieces of paneling on the cupboard shelves for my pots and pans.

I often lined the upper portion of my cupboard with adhesive-backed plastic paper in a wood pattern.

Now my cupboard blends beautifully with the paneling on the kitchen wall, and looks custom built.

Mrs. C. R. C.

Dear Heloise:

Every time I cook, fried steak or veal cutlets in batter—the batter comes off when I turn the meat over.

Please find the answer for me.

Jane

Does anyone have the answer to this? It's quite a common complaint.

Do be sweet enough to tell us your secret. Write to us in care of this paper. Your letters don't have to be signed to appear here.

Love,
Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When I press my husband's suits, I keep a spray bottle of water on the ironing board instead of running back and forth to the sink to wet the pressing cloth.

I can wet the cloth with the spray bottle and it saves me many steps.

Dear Heloise:

I have discovered that corsage pins are just marvelous for pinning protectors on chair arms and backs.

Also, they cannot be beaten for blocking knitted garments. The pins have beautiful pearl heads, and come in assorted colors.

Trudy

Dear Heloise:

Recently, I started to apply my eye shadow and could not find the little brush I ordinarily use for this.

Being in a rush, and not having time to look for the brush, I hit on the idea of trying a cotton tipped swab (the kind used in the nursery).

The little bit of cotton, moistened slightly, and applied to the color and onto the eyelids, works so well. It gives a smooth, effective appearance.

Javits, Kennedy Agree Cities Have Need for U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Robert F. Kennedy of New York agree that cities have a major need for federal development funds.

Kennedy, a Democrat, told the opening session of a Senate Government Operations subcommittee Monday that an "immediate and massive" effort was needed to rebuild what he called the blighted ghettos of American cities.

Cities Sharing Plan

Javits added at the opening of the subcommittee's inquiry into big-city problems that a plan to share federal tax revenues with the states could provide 40 per cent of the funds for a $1 billion urban development corporation.

Kennedy said workers from urban slums should get job priority in "a vastly expanded and accelerated program or urban reconstruction."

"The demands of Viet Nam, purportedly responsible for the cut-backs in vital education, housing and poverty programs, in fact still represent less than three per cent of our national product."

Kennedy said the United States was spending $600 million for economic development in South Viet Nam — and less than $100 million for poverty in educational employment aid to the New York City area.

Work Is Solution

He said employment is the only long-run solution to the problems that beset Negroes in the heart of the cities. He suggested a reconstruction effort with four guidelines:

—Employment priority would go to residents of the areas involved.

—Public and private training programs would operate on-the-job training at the rebuilding sites.

—Conventional education should be integrated with urban-reconstruction efforts, so that students could spend part of school time at work.

—Welfare programs should be coupled with rebuilding efforts, using newly available employment to reunite divided families.

Javits concurred in the need for a massive federal program of aid to cities, saying: "The major thrust as I see it is the need for money for the cities."

An Example of A 'Gulpic' Bid

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

West's opening club bid is what is sometimes called a "gulpic." The name is due to the fact that a player who makes that type of bid is apt to gulp a trifle.

North chose to double rather than overcall with one no-trump or make a trap pass. East's diamond bid was normal expert procedure. He did not want to take the chance that his partner had bid a club on a weak four card or even three card suit and that South would convert the takeout double into a penalty double by passing.

The rest of the bidding was normal enough except that we don't approve of West's three club bid. His side wasn't going anywhere and there was no reason for him to stick his neck out any further than he had when he made his original "gulpic."

The defense started out with the first two tricks when East took his ace of diamonds and returned the suit for his partner to ruff. Then West led his king of clubs.

Dummy's ace won that trick and South stopped to plan his play. He could draw trumps; discard one spade and one club on dummy's two good diamonds and play East for the king of spades but West was marked with that card for his "gulpic" bid.

South finally found another and winning play. He played two rounds of trumps; discarded a spade and a club on the two diamonds and ran off the rest of the trumps. This brought West down to king-jack of spades. Then he threw West in with the last club and forced West to lead away from his king of spades.

Income Hits New Record Despite Tieup, Shutdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income during July climbed to another record despite the airline machinists strike and a shutdown of automobile plants for their annual model changeovers, the Commerce Department announced today.

The $2.5 billion rise boosted personal income to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $579.7 billion during the month.

An increase of $2.8 billion in wages and salaries more than offset decreases in some other areas, the department added.

One limiting factor was the start of the Medicare program on July 1. Persons who enrolled in the supplementary insurance program started paying $3 a month to help them finance doctor and drug bills. That increased contributions for social insurance by about $500 million, which the department said is counted as a reduction in personal income.

Partly offsetting this were increased benefits under the health care program for the elderly which the department estimated boosted personal income by $100 million.

Personal income resulting from wages and salaries, proprietors' income and property income was up $2.7 billion during July, about the same as the average gain during the past two years.

The July gain in wages and salaries centered in distribution, services and government, with a pay raise for federal civilian employees and military personnel helping to swell the total. Total wage and salary income during July was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $393.3 billion.

Manufacturing wages and salaries at $127.1 billion, seasonally adjusted at an annual rate, were up only slightly from June. Sizable increases in metals and machinery were offset by decreases in transportation equipment as automobile plants closed earlier than usual for model changeovers.

Other durable goods industries showed little change, the department said.

Name Ex-Critic Exchange Head

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph S. Saul, a sharp critic of the American Stock Exchange while he was a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission, was elected president of that exchange today.

An exchange spokesman said Saul is expected to replace Edwin D. Etherington in the $100,000 a year position "sometime in early winter."

Etherington has accepted the presidency of Wesleyan University.

Saul, 44, was elected at a special meeting of the 32-member board of governors of the Amex, the nation's second largest securities exchange.

Expect State's Potato Yield To Exceed '65

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — This year's potato production in New York State is expected to exceed last year's, because increased acreage has offset lower yields, the New York Crop Reporting Service said today.

Last month's hot, dry weather reduced the yield prospects both on Long Island and Upstate.

Long Island's indicated production is 10,690,000 hundred pounds, compared with 10,565,000 last year. Upstate, the indicated production is 8,610,000, compared with last year's 8,600,000. The 1960-64 average was better for both years, however.

Arraign Conn. Man in Dutchess On Boyster Case

Alfred Widziewicz Jr., of Naugatuck, Conn., was arraigned today before Dutchess County Judge Joseph Giudice on an indictment handed down by the Dutchess County Grand Jury Monday charging him with first degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Sandra Boyster, 22, of Poughkeepsie.

Widziewicz was also arraigned on an indictment for first degree grand larceny, charging him with stealing a car owned by Mrs. Boyster and her sailor husband.

His case was adjourned to Sept. 20 for the purpose of securing motions. Appearing in his defense was George Bernhardt, attorney for a Connecticut law firm.

According to an Associated Press report, Mrs. Boyster's body was found in her apartment Aug. 5 by her husband when he returned home on leave from Newport, R. I. The missing car was found Aug. 7 in Watertown, Conn., where Widziewicz was arrested. He waived extradition.

Police said Widziewicz and a girl friend had been staying with the Boysters since they met in a New London, Conn. bar in mid-July.

Dutchess County District Attorney John Heilman will prosecute Widziewicz's case.

Report 24 Dead In Air Crash

VIENNA (AP)—The Austrian Embassy in Bucharest said today a Romanian Airlines passenger plane crashed near the town of Sibiu last Thursday, killing about 24 passengers and crew members.

An embassy spokesman reached from Vienna by telephone said Romanian authorities so far have not published a report about the Aug. 11 crash.

The embassy was informed about it because an Austrian married couple was among the victims, the spokesman said. The exact number of casualties was not known to the embassy, he added.

LBJ May Visit

President Johnson. There are certain things that must be done to prepare for a visit like this. At this time, the only thing I can say is that we expect and have every reason to believe that the President will be in this area at approximately 6 p. m. Friday. We expect to have further word momentarily.

Should he come, however, a reliable source told The Freeman today that President Johnson would probably disembark from a plane at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, sometime Friday; proceed from there by motor caravan to Walden where he might stop briefly to greet residents. From Walden, the caravan would in all probability move on to Ellenville, where Mr. Johnson is expected to officially dedicate the Ellenville Community Hospital, probably late Friday and, possibly, early Saturday.

Nevele Excitement Abounds — Resnick's carefully worded statement about the possibility of a presidential visit failed to curb the mounting excitement at the Nevele Country Club in Ellenville today. It was rumored the President would stay overnight there and rooms were already being readied for just such a possibility. The staff of the establishment was involved in a flurry of activity and chefs were already planning to prepare their finest recipes to welcome the President and members of his party.

Asked whether the President would visit other communities, Resnick told newsmen at today's press conference that it was a "situation with many possibilities."

Close Security Necessary — He noted that his cautious remarks were due, in most part, to the close security which surrounds the chief executive at all times. Said Resnick, "The office of the President requires that every precaution be taken. For this reason, we cannot give more information at this time."

Resnick concluded by noting that, "It has been several decades since a President has honored our area with a visit. We expect that President Johnson will be welcomed in the traditional Catskill Mountain style."

Whether that would include a Texas style barbecue during his stay remained just another unanswered question.

Races Planned For Children at Fair Wednesday

This year's Ulster County Fair which opens at Dietz Stadium and Forsyth Park Wednesday morning should prove a major attraction for area youngsters.

In addition to pony rides and plenty of delicious food there will be a sailboat race, a potato race, a sack race, and a three-legged race.

The sack race is somewhat in doubt at this writing but Contest Chairman Mrs. Harvey Carlton Locke has promised to provide a feed store so that the children can have the sack race.

Mrs. Locke also noted, that keeping with the theme of the fair, which is recalling the past glories of the county, awards will be presented to the couple that attend the fair in the most attractive of old costumes. An award will also be given to the booth that shows the most imagination in keeping with the theme of the fair. The awards will be in the form of trophies, to be presented by Kathleen Winters, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Winters.

All contests will be held at Dietz Stadium with the exception of the sailboat contest which will be held at the wading pool, Forsyth Park. Children are advised to bring their own boats for the contest.

In releasing the news of the contests to The Freeman, Mrs. Locke said she wanted to emphasize that everything at the Ulster County Fair is free with the exception of the pony rides and the food. Admission is also free.

2 Drivers Cited After Mishaps In City Monday

Two drivers were cited for violations after city traffic mishaps Monday night.

Wayne Passer, 19, of 8 North Wilbur Avenue, was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident after a parked car was reported struck on Henry Street.

Officer Albert Brown, who investigated, said the parked car was owned by Anne S. Elting, of 116 Henry Street. The report was filed at 9:33 p. m.

After the other, reported at 7:07 p. m., James H. Lee Jr., 19, of Colonial Gardens, driver of one car in a two-car mishap on East Chester Street near Flatbush Avenue, was charged with unsafe starting.

Officers Douglas Longto and Harry Short, who investigated, said the other car, driven by Richard Barnhart, 19, of 24 West Chester Street, was struck as Lee pulled from the shoulder of the road.

Hearing of Passer before City Judge Hubert A. Richter was put over to Wednesday to permit him time to obtain counsel. Bail fixed at $100 for each charge was not immediately posted.

Lee pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

Richard L. Semptimphelter, 20, of Florence, N. J., charged with speeding and making unnecessary noise, paid $15 on the former and $10 on the other.

Herbert Lorenz, 19, of Tillson Lake Road, Wallkill, charged with a traffic light violation, was fined $10.

Shocked at Use Of Gang Leaders To Quell Riots

NEW YORK (AP) — The use of gangland leaders to help quell racial disturbances in Brooklyn was described today as "shocking" by Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Aaron Koota.

But two officials of the City Youth Board defended it and indicated it might be done again.

Koota told a news conference that the city's use of Larry and Alberto Gallo to calm down white youths was a tacit admission that law enforcement can't do its job.

The district attorney met with newsmen after a closed-door conference with Dr. Frank C. Arricale, executive director of the Youth Board, and Rabbi Samuel Schrage, a board deputy.

Arricale told reporters that the question of whether he would seek the Gallos' help in the future "will depend upon the facts."

Schrage was more explicit. "I will take good from anyone," he said. "We did save lives and what we did was right."

Koota said he was particularly concerned about letters of identification issued to the Gallo brothers by the Youth Board. He said he urged Arricale to get back the letters lest they be used like "letters of mark and reprisal," which were issued during the Revolutionary War to license piracy on the high seas.

The Gallos have agreed to meet with one of Koota's assistants on Thursday, the district attorney said.

LBJ to Speak

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will speak Wednesday at ceremonies marking the 5th anniversary of the Alliance for Progress.

The observance will be held at 11 a. m. EDT in the conference room of the Pan American Health Organization.

It is being sponsored by various inter-American organizations, including the Organization of American States and the Pan American Health Organization.

STADIUM CEREMONY—At second annual Pow-Wow of Champions sponsored by the Indians Drum Corps Saturday night at Dietz Stadium, Tony Bell, master of ceremonies; Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick of the 28th Congressional District; Ralph Shapiro, director of Troop 12 BSA Indians and Mel Kelman, transportation director, view championship flag. St. Lucy's Cadets of Newark, N. J., were winners of the coveted banner with a competition score of 86.01. Congressman Resnick announced that he will present the local Indians Drum Corps with an American flag which has flown over the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

Vow CR Marches Into White Areas To Be Expanded

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Civil rights leaders say the marches into white neighborhoods of Chicago will be expanded and "will continue until Negroes can move into housing wherever they choose."

The promised continuation of the demonstrations came from Albert A. Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, at a rally Monday night.

Eight groups of marchers are to go into previously picketed areas today—three going to Jefferson Park, a Northwest Side neighborhood, and five going to downtown locations including the Chicago Real Estate Board.

Planning continued for a summit meeting on housing Wednesday. The Rt. Rev. James V. Montgomery, bishop and conductor of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago, said the conference was called to discuss open housing—not to seek an end to the marches which have led to violence on many occasions.

In New Orleans, a federal appeals court reversed the convictions of two Negroes who have been in solitary confinement on death row for 13 years—a modern record.

In another of its landmark decisions, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that Edgar Labat and Clifton A. Poret, both of New Orleans, did not get a fair trial because Negroes were excluded from the jury.

The case was the last of eight in which the appeals court set aside the problem of racial discrimination in housing requires more study. He told newsmen he had spent a week-end poring over the House-passed civil rights bill and is convinced as ever that its open housing section is unconstitutional.

In New York, it was announced that Stokely Carmichael, chairman of the "black power"-oriented Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, has been named to an international panel which will put the United States "on trial" for its Viet Nam policies.

The announcement was made on behalf of Lord Bertrand Russell who originally announced the "war crimes tribunal" that will meet in France in November.

In New Orleans, U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry reprimanded Leander Perez and threatened for a second time to cite the segregation leader for contempt of court.

The judge issued the warning during the third day of a hearing on a suit to desegregate schools in Perez's Plaquemine Parish. Perez said he wanted to read certain letters because he didn't think the judge would see them otherwise. Christenberry warned him to quit suggesting that the judge would not consider all the evidence.

After hearing closing arguments, the judge delayed his ruling but said he is bound by law to order integration of the public schools in the parish, a segregation stronghold.

Sentencing Put Over — Joseph Washington, 42, of 238 East Union Street, one of two drivers charged with driving while intoxicated after a recent East Strand mishap, pleaded guilty today in city court to driving while his ability was impaired, and is to be sentenced Aug. 20. Police said the other car was driven by Chatmon Edwards, 63, of 49 East Perpoint Street, who recently pleaded guilty to an ability impaired charge and was fined $50 plus suspension of his license for 60 days.

Attorney Bernard A. Feeney Jr., appeared today for Washington, and Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher for the prosecution.

Queens Man Is Charged in '64 Slaying of Prof

NEW YORK (AP) — A jobless Queens man was charged today with the 1964 slaying of Columbia University nuclear physicist Charles J. Gallagher Jr. in Central Park.

Richard Conroy, 23, was taken from the civil jail—where he was being held on another matter—and charged with homicide at the arsenal police station, near the park.

Police said a second man was involved in the April 15, 1964, slaying, but they declined to elaborate.

Gallagher, 31, who was married, the father of two and an assistant professor at Columbia, often walked in the park at night.

His body, a single bullet hole through the heart, was found in the heavily wooded section of the park known as the rambles at 6:20 a. m.

Police declined to say how their investigation led to the arrest of Conroy, an unmarried man wearing his blond hair flat on the top and long on the sides.

Conroy gave his address as 109-20 Queens Blvd., Forest Hills, Queens, about a 20 minute subway ride from the Central Park area.

Panel Dissolves — directed the ACLU and Justice Department to file written briefs today.

Refusal to obey Judge Corcoran's order could subject the nine committee members, all named as defendants in the suit, to contempt of court action.

But Pool made it clear, in a speech to several dozen applauding House members and later to reporters, that he had no intention of bowing to the court order. He is acting as chairman of the committee in the absence of Rep. Edwin E. Willis, who is in a Democratic primary election runoff in Louisiana.

Defies Order — "I don't think the court order is worth the paper it is written on," Pool said in his office. "I will go to jail and stay there until hell freezes over to prove my point," he added.

There was also a question whether the persons subpoenaed would show up at the hearing. One said he did not expect them to testify unless Judge Corcoran's order is set aside.

Pool's adamant stand was promptly supported by House Speaker John W. McCormack. Calling Judge Corcoran's move "a direct attack on the integrity and independent prerogatives of Congress," the speaker added:

"This is a very deep, fundamental question."

Seen as Challenge — Rep. John H. Buchanan, R-Ala., committee member, told the House: "This is the ultimate challenge to the people's branch of government."

As for the precedent for the judge's move, Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph M. Hannan said a check of Justice Department records had failed to turn up any cases in which a federal court had blocked a meeting by a congressional committee.

Francis J. McNamara, staff director of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said: "To the best of my knowledge this is the first time it's ever been done."

John Pemberton, ACLU executive director, told reporters after he filed the suit Monday: "I do not honestly expect Judge Corcoran to grant this injunction."

Pemberton filed the suit in behalf of Walter D. Teague III of New York, chairman of the U.S. Committee to Aid the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) of South Viet Nam, and Dr. Allen M. Krebs, a former professor who is now president of the Free University of New York.

Pemberton said the suit was being filed because the hearings "appear to us to herald a new period of official suppression of citizen dissent."

The legislation under consideration by the committee would

24 Oppose Halt Of Phoebe Snow

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad's plan to end operation of the Phoebe Snow, its glamor passenger train, drew opposition from nearly two dozen persons.

In substance, they told an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing Monday there was no valid reason to discontinue the train, which has run between New York City and Chicago for more than 60 years.

One of the objectors, Assemblyman Charles Henderson, R-Hornell, charged that promises made by the Erie and the Lackawanna prior to their merger in 1960 had not been kept.

He said the railroads pledged that the merger would improve passenger service to New York's southern tier area.

"I oppose the elimination of the Phoebe Snow," he said, "because it is just another reduction of service and an example of promises not being kept."

George Heron, administrator of the Seneca Indian Nation, contended that discontinuance of the train would jeopardize a planned $8-million Williamsburg-style Indian village reconstruction project on the Seneca reservation near Salamanca.

He said the project, expected to start in two months and be completed in five years, would attract two million tourists to the area annually.

The next session in the hearing is scheduled for Wednesday at Huntington, Ind. Other sessions will be held Aug. 19 at Chicago; Aug. 22 at Marion, Ohio; Aug. 23 at Binghamton and Aug. 24 at Port Jervis.

Lack of Funds Forces Library To Cut Services

The Kingston City Library has had to drastically curtail its services to the community as a result of the refusal of the Kingston Consolidated Schools Board of Education to support it.

The bookmobile service is a thing of the past and the vehicle is now up for sale. The reference librarian has been released and the new director, Robert L. Neal, will assume her duties in addition to his own.

Instead of being open 55 hours a week the library will now be open only 42½ hours, a 23 per cent reduction. The former hours 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., weekdays.

The new hours are 12:30 p. m. to 9 p. m., also weekdays.

In a statement to the Freeman Neal said, "The board of trustees is fully aware that the culture and strength of the community, just as in the college library on campus, is judged by its library. We are determined to explore every possible means of financial support to maintain a strong book collection and a good service which will bring pride to the community."

Urges 'Bugging' Be Made Crime — WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., urged Congress today to make it a federal crime to use any kind of eavesdropping device against American citizens.

Moss said in a statement a Washington-based security firm offered to "eavesdrop" his office and telephones electronically "to make certain they were not being bugged or monitored by persons wishing to eavesdrop on me."

He said the service was offered on a regular monthly basis at a cost of $25 a month.

"No American, including congressmen," Moss said, "should have to labor under the burden of a special security check to insure his privacy."

While existing law prohibits unauthorized use of radio transmitting "bugs," Moss said, it does not prevent placing "a sensitive sound device against the wall, or aiming a parabolic microphone into my office window, or secreting a tiny recording device on my desk."

Moss urged the House Commerce Committee to expedite action on a Senate-passed bill that would authorize the Federal Communications Commission to regulate the manufacture and sale of radio transmission devices and to consider banning unauthorized use of any kind of eavesdropping device.

Sears fell while climbing with the Crossroads Africa Team. He suffered a thigh fracture, head cut and back injury. His condition was reported as fair.

Provides Housing Funds — WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill designed to loosen the tight home financing market by adding more than $3.75 billion to funds now available for home loans.

Handlers of the House bill, adopted Monday by a 314-1 vote, predicted that the Senate will accept their version. The Senate has passed a bill with the same purpose, but substantially different provisions.

impose fines up to $20,000 and prison sentences up to 20 years against persons who acted to block the movement of U.S. men or material to Viet Nam.

LBJ Talks Confidently
With Gloomy Umbrella

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is talking confidently under a gloomy umbrella.

He is more frank about Viet Nam than President John F. Kennedy was and shows more realism about it than used to be exhibited by Robert S. McNamara, who is his secretary of defense and was Kennedy's.

Although this country pumped billions of dollars in economic and military aid into South Viet Nam under President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy, that country was in danger of being lost to the Communists because the American-backed dictator President Ngo Dinh Diem did not put in the reforms the United States insisted upon.

Not Much From JFK

You didn't hear much about it from Kennedy. Apparently he felt that if Diem went, all hope went, until at last he cracked down shortly before Diem was assassinated. After that event things picked up. Gradually American forces there were built up.

McNamara seemed to have such a poor understanding of what was happening meanwhile, and of what lay ahead, that as late as 1964 he told Congress even if the war didn't go well this country should still withdraw most of its troops by 1965.

He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war, which was true. But that always had been true. And if the South Vietnamese had been left to themselves, the Communists would have overwhelmed them, which was exactly what this country didn't want.

And there were McNamara's seemingly endless expeditions to Viet Nam for a look-see and his returns with statements almost always sunny, like "things are progressing very well out there" or "the Vietnamese are on the right track" when, as it turned out, things weren't and the Vietnamese weren't.

Over the weekend the American commander in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, flew to Johnson's Texas ranch and talked with him four hours about problems, present and future. Then the men met with reporters.

Then — this was the confident part — Johnson said the Communists will not defeat the American forces in Viet Nam and that a victory for them is not only "improbable" but "impossible."

Then the Gloom

Then he stood under this gloomy umbrella. Although he said the Reds can't win, he admitted he doesn't know when they finally will stop trying to.

Or, as he put it: "The single most important factor now is our will to prosecute the war until the Communists, recognizing the futility of their ambitions, either end the fighting, or seek a peaceful settlement."

And further, because no one can say when the Communists will admit they can't win, no one can say how many more Americans will be needed in Viet Nam to convince them.

At this moment there are about 291,000 American troops in South Viet Nam and Westmoreland said more than that will be needed, although he didn't say how many.

But he did reveal there are 280,000 enemy Viet Cong in South Viet Nam. The North Vietnamese are sending in more all the time.

Believes Next 45
Days Critical in Medicare Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Health, Education and Welfare Department official predicts "the next 45 days will tell" whether Congress plans changes in the federal Medical-Aid enabling law.

Wilbur J. Cohen, undersecretary of welfare, told state officials Monday in a conference on the new state-federal program for medical assistance that the House Ways and Means Committee still had the law under study.

Congressional attention was stirred after New York State put into effect a program to pay the medical bills of those deemed needy under terms that appeared to be more liberal than Congress had envisioned.

Cohen said the House committee was considering such factors as the cost of the program and a requirement in the law that state plans must be directed toward provisions of comprehensive medical care by 1975.

The New York State plan has been submitted to the department for approval of federal participation, but Cohen said no action would be taken until the committee determines its own course.

Beatles Resume American Tour, KKKs at Stadium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steering steadfastly clear of amateur theology, the Beatles resume their American tour today, having sent thousands of the capital's teen-agers into cheering fits.

Under elaborate police guard, the unshorn quartet performed Monday night in D.C. Stadium. The turnstiles clicked to a total of 32,164 and the affair went off practically without incident.

Five Ku Kluxers, proclaiming their objection to Beatle John Lennon's remarks about Christianity, picketed the stadium.

But the nearest thing to violence was when a 16-year-old youth eluded the police cordon at third base, streaked to the bandstand at second base and laid a hand on three Beatles before being collared. He explained that he just wanted to touch the musicians because he admired them so.

The concert, punctuated by piercing cheers and screams, followed a news conference. Did Lennon feel, a newspaper asked, that the Vatican had made him feel better, had sort of got him off a hot spot? This was a reference to a L'Osservatore Romano article saying Lennon had spoken of Christ without thinking, "offhandedly and not impulsively."

Lennon replied: "If it makes other people feel better, it will make me feel better."

Some pastors had denounced him, and some disc jockeys signaled for bonfires fueled by Beatle works, because he had remarked:

"We're more popular than

Jail Millerton Man
As Work Duty Shirker

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "These are critical days," says a federal judge in his sentencing two men to two years each in federal prison for failure to report for civilian work duty in lieu of military service.

"I'm not going to let the draft board down," added Judge James T. Foley Monday as he sentenced Richard J. Wessels, 23, of the east-central New York State community of Palatine Bridge, and Ernest C. Haegler, 24, of Millerton, N.Y., near the Connecticut line.

Wessels' lawyer argued that the young man had failed to pass a physical examination for forestry work to which he had been assigned.

Haegler said he could not report for military duty or civilian work because:

"I am obeying the tenets of my beliefs and following my conscience in service to God." Court records listed Haegler as a conscientious objector and member of the Jehovah's Witnesses faith.

A house is real estate, but the rugs and furniture in it are personal property or chattels.

Jesus now. Jesus was all right but His Disciples were thick and ordinary. It's them twisting it that ruins it for me."

Later he apologized, saying he had merely tried to deplore some people's attitude toward Christianity.

Ulster to Hold Hearing Sept. 1 On Senior Taxes

The town board of the Town of Ulster will hold a public hearing at its next board meeting on September 1, in relation to adoption of necessary town legislation for exemption from taxation certain persons 65 years of age or over who qualify under State Law 467.

Under the new law, which was sponsored by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Ulster Republican, and signed into law by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, real property owners 65 years of age or over who have an income of $3,000 or less are eligible to a 50 per cent reduction in real property tax if their local municipality has adopted necessary town legislation.

Census Shows 673

Prior to adoption of a local law, ordinance or resolution, it is necessary under the law to hold a public hearing.

Under the recent special census taken in the town of Ulster there appears to be 673 residents in the age bracket between 65 and 85 years. However, not all of them are owners of real property and not all of those who own real property will fall within the bracket of having $3,000 or less income.

All those who are within the $3,000 or less bracket and who own real property, are requested to stop in at the office of Supervisor Thaddeus Musikiweicz or the town clerk and register their names and addresses prior to the public hearing.

At the last meeting of the town board a public hearing was held on the junk ordinance and the board has reviewed the remarks made at that hearing and has since revamped the ordinance and will be ready to vote on the revised ordinance at the September meeting. All indications at the public hearing were that the revised ordinance would be beneficial to the welfare of the town.

At the August meeting of the town board, two bids pertaining to the expansion of the town of Ulster Water District were accepted and contract awarded. Baker Brothers Construction Corporation was low bidder for foundations, valve chambers, connecting lines and necessary work for the storage reservoir with a bid of $39,880. The second low bid was for 1,500,000 gallon storage reservoir tank and was for $92,660 submitted by the Pittsburgh-DeMonies Steel Company, Inc. Both bids were under the estimated cost of the town's engineering firm of J. Kenneth Frazier Associates.

The board also took action on the recommendation of a change in the "Washington Avenue" sign at the Route 28 traffic circle. To many tourists this sign is confusing. The Ulster town board passed a resolution to petition Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson to sponsor legislation which will permit the sign to be changed to "Uptown Kingston Arterial Route." The present sign, "Washington Avenue," is confusing and meaningless to strangers, particularly those seeking to pass through the uptown business area.

Nature Center Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York State is the recipient of a $45,950 federal grant to aid in developing a nature center and conservation - education area near the Chenango County community of Sherburne.

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation approved the grant Monday for the 280-acre area. Rep. Samuel Stratton, D - N.Y., said the money for the state-owned tract comes from the federal land and water conservation fund.

Doing The Right Thing

BY ELIZABETH L. POST

GIFT WAS GIVEN IN GOOD FAITH, WEAR IT AND ENJOY IT!

By Elizabeth L. Post

Dear Mrs. Post: I was given a beautiful sweater set as a going-away present from my bridge club when it seemed that my husband was to be transferred to another office. I was thrilled and wore it frequently. Now this company has decided to keep him here, and I am very upset; I don't know what to do about the sweaters. Should I attempt to pay the girls back, since I can't return the sweaters and credit them?—June K.

Dear June: Heavens no! It would be very embarrassing to your friends if you tried to repay them. Show them how much you appreciate the gift by wearing it often and enjoying it.

Over Seventy? Don't Waste Time

Dear Mrs. Post: I am in my seventies and am planning to marry a lady of the same age. My wife died six months ago, and we would like to know if we should wait longer. We do not wish to show my wife any disrespect.

—H. Franklin.

Dear Mr. Franklin: I'd say you've waited long enough. A young widow or widower should wait a year or so, but if I were you, I wouldn't waste any more time.

How Do You Spot A Bachelor?

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it all right to ask a man you have been talking to for a while if he is married? If you don't ask, how can you tell, since so many men don't wear wedding rings?—Irene.

Dear Irene: Go ahead and ask, but not too quickly, or you'll tip your hand.

Private Nurse Is Introduced

Dear Mrs. Post: When you have a private nurse in the hospital, do you introduce her to everyone who comes into your room?—Elsie K.

Dear Elsie: You certainly do!

PRINCIPALS IN SUMMER SCHOOL PLAY

Enrichment Program Given in Schools; Deemed Successful

During the past six weeks, the Kingston Schools, Consolidated, presented a Cultural Enrichment Project for 74 selected fourth, fifth and sixth graders. The program instructors, headed by A. J. Boyd, principal were Mrs. Edna Rignall, music; William Slavin and Michael Lewis, art; Miss Susan O'Reilly and Frank A. Ryerson, drama; and Mrs. Lillian Tongue, librarian.

During the first four weeks, students worked in one of three areas of study—music, drama or art. Program objective was to provide cultural experiences which are not usually provided within the classrooms.

An art show, drama presentation and music exhibit were completed by the students. The three areas of studies were united in a presentation of The First in the West, an original musical skit written by the students in the drama class. The music was performed by students in the music class and scenery was in charge of the art class.

In addition to the presentations, students enjoyed field trips. They attended performances of My Fair Lady and The Marriage of Figaro, the latter given by Turnau Opera Company in Woodstock. Trips also were taken to the Metropolitan Museum and theater houses.

PLAN LABOR DAY EVENT—Committees for the third annual Union Center Community Day discuss plans for the event to be held Labor Day at Ulster Park. Festivities will start 2 p. m. Sept. 5 and continue into the evening at the schoolhouse, firehouse and grounds on Union Center Road. At the planning session are (seated) the Mmes. Otto Thoden, Elsie Berger and Emma Barrie of the supper committee; (standing) Mrs. Robert Tienken and Mrs. Robert Berger, field events committee. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Chairmen Named For Blind Sale

Plans for a third annual Union Center Community Day are well under way, according to Mrs. Donald Dawson, president of the Union Center Civic Group, sponsor of the event to be held on Labor Day, Sept. 5.

The old schoolhouse on Union Center Road, Ulster Park, as well as the adjoining firehouse and grounds will be the scene of much activity beginning at 2 p. m. and continuing on into the evening.

Mrs. Robert Berger, general chairman of the community event, has named the following co-chairmen who are already working out the details of their responsibilities: Cafeteria supper, Mrs. Elsie Berger, Mrs. Otto Thoden and Mrs. Emma Barrie; Baby picture gallery, Mrs. Charlotte Schoonmaker; Field events, Mrs. Robert Tienken, Mrs. Robert Berger and Mr. and Mrs. William Daum; penny social, Mrs. Donald Dawson and Mrs. Charles Schoonmaker; Miscellaneous booth, Mrs. Anne Cole and Mrs. George Villhelm; Snack bar, Robert Berger and Charles Schoonmaker; art work, Mrs. Robert Coisson; trucking and acoustics, Robert Tienken.

Master of ceremonies and in charge of entertainment will be Robert Tremper, the "Uncle Stump" of Cub Scout fame, who will officially welcome all new members of the community, as well as those former residents who will be returning for the opportunity to visit with friends. "Details concerning the special events of the afternoon and evening will be announced in the near future," Mrs. Berger said. "In the meantime, the Union Center Civic Group suggests that all folks interested in keeping in touch in the old-fashioned neighborly way reserve the day, Labor Day, for Union Center Community Day."

Dear Abby... They All Want Decent Mate

Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My brother, who just came back from the navy, told me that he and some of his buddies were sitting around talking about what kind of girls they wanted to marry. And 9 out of 10 men said they wanted "nice, pure" girls.

But what puzzles me is this: I just finished my sophomore year at college, and some of us girls were sitting around the sorority house talking about what kind of men we wanted for husbands, and almost all the girls said they wanted an "experienced" man. This doesn't add up. Or does it?

FRANKLY PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Regardless of what they say in their hearts, decent men or women prefer other decent men or women when it comes to marriage. "Experience" can mean emotional maturity, proper motivation and awareness of purpose in a man, and not necessarily the art of love-making. If it doesn't in this case, then your sorority sisters are talking clinical gibberish that would puzzle anybody. Including me.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a professional man and I know that he is attractive. I handle all the social arrangements. My problem is what to do about women who telephone my husband at his office on the pretense that they can't reach me at home.

My husband is a good, trustworthy man, and when this happens he asks me to return the lady's call, and when I do she seems so crestfallen. I know that some women use this foursome get-together scheme to get next to somebody else's husband, but how does a wife combat it?

JUST THE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: She doesn't. She lets her husband field the wild ones.

DEAR ABBY: How can I make my older sis-

Historical Society Hears Hasbrouck At Marbletown Meeting

Members of the Ulster County Historical Society meeting at Bevier House, Marbletown, on Saturday, Aug. 13, heard General Sherman Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge speak on the restoration of old houses.

The General, a native of Stone Ridge has made his home there on family property since retirement from the army several years ago. He has been active in community affairs and especially interested in restoration of the Abraham Hasbrouck house on Huguenot Street, New Paltz.

Such work, he pointed out falls into two categories—preservation and restoration. First make the house safe and sound, clear out additions and changes that are not appropriate to the vintage of the house. Then proceed to the restoration, first consulting experts from museums or antique authorities so that the house and furnishings are correctly completed.

The street of the Huguenots, now designated as a national historic site attracts many visitors especially during the open house and pageant days.

The Abraham Hasbrouck house built in 1680 now nearing completion is supported by the Hasbrouck Family Association and the Colonel Josiah Hasbrouck house built in 1820, deeded to the Huguenot Historical Society, is supported by individual subscriptions. The Deyo, Freer and Bevier Elting houses are family owned. The Crispell and DuBoise families are soon to be represented in the area. All of the houses are under the umbrella of the Huguenot Historical Society.

A social hour was enjoyed after the talk. Mrs. John Davenport of Stone Ridge was in charge of refreshments and was assisted by Miss Katherine Terwilliger of Ellenville and Mrs. Frederick Schurtz of Kingston.

"Year of the Bloody Slaughter"

Federation Raps New Policy; Would Ban Deer Party Permits

The president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County, William J. Meyer, today issued a statement in which he described the year 1966 as "the bloody slaughter of our deer herd in New York State."

Meyer also charged that the increase of party permits from 41,600 in 1965 to 70,000 in 1966 is "too great for our deer herd to withstand."

The statement follows:

"The year 1966 will go down in the record books as the bloody slaughter of our deer herd in New York State. The increase of party permits from 41,600 in 1965 to 70,000 in 1966 is too great for our deer herd to withstand."

"Couple this with our regular buck season and our winter kill, if we have a bad winter, and it amounts to a staggering figure well beyond the Conservation Department's 70,000 figure. True, we have had three mild winters and our deer herd grew, but not to the proportions claimed by the department. They go by statistics, not by count. It may also be noted that close to a million dollars will be realized from these party permits so we begin to wonder if deer management or money management is the answer."

Revise Thinking

"In its first conception the Federation voted for deer management of our deer herds. Since then we have come to realize that the department has thinned the herd down to one third of its original size."

"The Federation asked to meet with department heads to eliminate party permits in Ulster county. Federation officials met the Conservation Department officials on March 17, 1966,

Mathewson Comeback; Bombs HR

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ed Mathewson struck purple, Deron Johnson saw red and Bill White battered Chicago black and blue.

Those developments occurred Monday night as Mathewson powered Atlanta past Houston 4-2. Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 4-3 with Johnson's help and Philadelphia whipped Chicago 11-5 behind White's big bat.

Mathewson, whose home run won the Braves' first game under Billy Hitchcock last Tuesday, did it again against the Astros by hitting a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

Hits Big Homer
The homer was a towering shot, landing in the purple seats at the Astrodome. The seats, located on the fourth level, seldom have been reached in the stadium's two-year history.

Johnson, on the other hand, didn't do much hitting at all, and that had him seeling red.

The Reds' slugger, who has 57 runs batted in this season compared with his major league-leading total of 130 last year, came to bat in the seventh inning with two runs in, two tying runs on base and two out.

Bob Miller replaced starter Claude Osteen and got Johnson to fly out.

A similar situation cropped up in the ninth. The Reds scored one run, cutting the Dodgers lead to 4-3, and had two men on and again with two out. This time Phil Regan replaced Miller, and Johnson struck out.

5 RBIs For White
White didn't hit any mammoth homers, but he didn't kill any rallies either. Instead, he lashed three singles and drove in five runs. He singled home two in the first inning, two in the second and one in the eighth.

The output raised his runs batted in total to 79, six more than he had all last season. There was no output from Pittsburgh and San Francisco, the top two teams in the league, Monday night. They had a day of rest, so the Pirates maintained their 14-game lead over the Giants. The Dodgers are three games back.

Mathewson's home run, following the first of two singles by pitcher Tony Cloninger, boosted the Braves into a 3-2 lead. Mathewson singled home their first run in the first inning. Cloninger allowed just five hits, none between the third and the eighth innings.

The Dodgers scored all four of their runs in the fourth inning. Jim Gilliam singled and Lou Johnson homered for the first two, and Wes Parker and John Roseboro singled in the others.

White's lousy performance helped Chris Short to his 14th victory although the southpaw needed relief help from Terry Fox in the eighth after doubles by Adolfo Phillips and Billy Williams cut the Phillies' lead to 8-5. Byron Browne and Ron Santo homered for Chicago.

Yesterday's Stars
BATTING—Boog Powell, Baltimore, hit three homers and drove in all four runs in the American League leading Orioles' 11-inning, 4-2 triumph over Boston.

PITCHING—Tony Cloninger, Atlanta, pitched a five-hitter as the Braves downed Houston 4-2.

Seeded No. 3
Richey, from San Angelo, Tex. and No. 3 in U.S. singles, had severe leg cramps in Paris in May. MacCall said he had thought the cramps were due to a long, sit-up airplane ride. Now he wonders.

Graebner got the nod from MacCall over Richey for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston, but Richey got to play Monday because Ralston had a blister on his right foot. Lara then was substituted by Mexico for Joaquin Loyo-Mayo.

MacCall said Graebner's match against the 27-year-old Osuna was his "finest in this country and possibly the equal of his great win over Fred Stolle in Australia."

The bespectacled Beachwood, Ohio, star won his big service every time against Osuna and as MacCall said, "his return of Osuna's service was fantastic."

He broke Osuna's service in the eighth game of the first set, the ninth of the second and the fifth of the third.

Voted Outstanding Player
Seventeen writers covering the matches voted Graebner the outstanding player of the three-day matches. He was awarded a silver cup.

In Saturday's opening singles, the 6-foot-2 Graebner beat 5-foot-6, left-handed Loyo-Mayo off walk in the 11th and, one out later, Powell smashed a John Wyatt pitch into the left field screen.

California's George Brunet yielded only three hits before the stormy seventh but suffered his ninth loss in 20 decisions.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 26th homer for the Twins and Joe Adcock homered twice for the Angels.

Gentle Gets First
Gentle hit his first homer as an Indian after Rocky Colavito walked in the fourth inning and Hinton connected in the fifth after a single by Leon Wagner.

Paul Casanova's second homer of the game, with one on in the ninth, closed the gap before Luis Tiant rescued winner Sonny Siebert.

Cash sent Detroit ahead 4-2 with a two-run homer in the fifth and the Tigers added two more runs, then held off a Yankee rally in the ninth. Bobby Richardson rapped four hits, including a homer, and Tom Tresh hit a two-run shot for the Yankees.

Buford's 10th inning hit scored Al Weis, who had led off the inning with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice. Bill Skowron's pinch hit homer in the seventh had pulled the White Sox even.

Two-run homers by Jim Gentle and Chuck Hinton powered Cleveland past Washington 4-3; Norm Cash's 20th career homer helped Detroit edge New York 6-5 and Don Buford's run-scoring single in the 10th inning gave Chicago a 4-3 decision over Kansas City in other AL games.

Powell, who has slammed eight homers in his last 13 games, sent the Orioles ahead 1-0 with the first of his three opposite-field drives in the fourth inning.

Tony Conigliaro's 23rd homer, a two-run shot in the sixth, put the Red Sox on top, but Powell connected again with one out in the ninth, sending the game into extra innings.

Frank Robinson drew a lead.

Leg Injuries Could Finish Davis Cupper

By RICHARD H. SMITH

Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — A 5-0 sweep of the Davis Cup Tennis American Zone final from Mexico gave the U.S. team cause for both elation and concern today as it looked ahead to October and the next round, with Brazil as the opponent.

A reason for U.S. captain George MacCall to rejoice was the performance of Clark Graebner, who mastered Mexico's top amateur, Rafael Osuna, in Monday's singles' finale 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

A reason for MacCall to worry was that muscular cramps knotted the legs of 19-year-old Cliff Richey as he struggled to an 11-13, 6-0, 10-8, 6-4 victory over Marcelo Lara in Monday's first singles match.

"His muscles were coming up like bubbles," said MacCall, who worked on Richey's legs after the seventh, eighth and ninth games of the fourth and last set in the two-hour, 49-minute match.

Jack's Bombs Gordon's to Nail 3rd Place in CSL

Jack's Barber Shop finished up a very successful City Softball League season, blasting Gordon's Bar 17-2 and bringing their season record to 11-5, good enough for a third place tie with Subway Grill in the league.

Stan Tintowski supplied the muscle for the winners, banging a homer and a double and scoring four times. Pete Blanchan also had a homer for the winners. Charlie Bishop and Bill Stokes had triples. Bishop added a double. Blanchan went 4-4.

Stokes was masterful as he gave up only two hits to Gordon's. Don Davis took the loss.

DANGER

Smashing an automobile into another on the highway as low as 30 MPH can mean death. "If I had my choice of any car on my test lot, I'd pick the Jeep Wagoneer"

Noted critic and test driver Tom McCall remarks on the new 'Jeep' Wagoneer.

Recently, in Mechanix Illustrated, Tom McCall said, "My front yard usually resembles a clearing house for a hot car ring. At present, better than $50,000 worth of autos stand there broiling in the hot Florida sun... of the whole kit and caboodle, my choice would be the 'Jeep' Wagoneer."

Nearly everyone who's driven the new 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' Wagoneer agrees it's the most versatile car ever produced. "It rides like the best Detroit, has to offer," says McCall. "But it'll go places you just wouldn't dream of going in an ordinary car. And, it looks just as much at home in the parking lot of the most posh country club as it does next to a prairie camp fire." Concluding his article, McCall said, "The Wagoneer is built like a bank vault and, if my calculations are worth a hoot, it will experience a lot less trouble in five years than many of the fancy Dats that can crack above 130 and easily eat you out of house and home." Test drive a 'Jeep' Wagoneer today.

You've got to drive it to believe it. See your 'Jeep' dealer. Check the Yellow Pages.

Seniors Golf Tourney Date Is September 11

Ulster County Seniors Golf Association has set Sunday, Sept. 11, as the date for its 14th annual championship tournament at Woodstock Country Club.

The tournament is open to all bonafide Ulster County residents with a club handicap. Entry blanks are being mailed to more than 100 participants in recent tournaments.

Entry blanks are also available at Woodstock, Twaalfskill and Wiltwyck. Deadline for entries is Thursday, Sept. 1.

Augustus Schrowang of Twaalfskill is the defending champion in Class A.

Competition will again be in five classes — Class A, 70 and over; Class B, 65 to 69; Class C, 60 to 64; Class D, 55 to 59; Class E, 50 to 54.

Trophies will be awarded for low gross and low net in each division.

Reelect deLisio
A. J. (Tony) deLisio of Woodstock has been reelected president of the organization. Fabian L. Russell of Twaalfskill succeeds Floyd W. Flint as vice president. Flint, one of the founders of the Seniors group, is now a resident of Florida. Other officers are: Ralph E. Gardner, secretary and Charles J. Tiano, treasurer and tournament director.

Smith Tandem Scores in PGA

Bob Smith of Wolferts Roost and Fred Dorn teamed for an 11-under-par 61 Monday to win the Northeastern New York PGA Pro-Member tournament at Winding Brook Country Club at Valatie.

The leaders, with nines of 30-31, finished two strokes ahead of two other teams: Bob Mix, Albany CC, and Clay Burnett, 32-31; and Frank Misarti, Green Mansions and Herb Klock, 31-32. Mix led the individual pros with a 3-under-par 69 that featured five birdies. Ed Bosse of Colonie was second with 35-36-71.

Glenn Young, Marty Czwaikel of Normanside, and host pro Claude Young all equalled par 72. Jim Hutchins of Woodstock was one over par with 38-35-73.

Set Round Robin Tourney, Sept. 4

Starting times have been announced for the fifth annual Kingston Area Round Robin on Sunday-Monday, Sept. 4-5, at Twaalfskill, Wiltwyck and Woodstock.

Play in the 54-hole medal competition starts Sunday, Sept. 4, at 9 a. m. at Wiltwyck, then resumes at 2 p. m. at Woodstock. The 18-hole finals will be played Labor Day morning at 9 o'clock at Twaalfskill.

Leon Randall, a two-time winner, will make his fourth appearance in the tournament. Ricky Barthel, the newly crowned champion, will represent Twaalfskill. The Woodstock representative will be determined by the 36-hole playoff between Bill Van Aken and Ray DuBois. Van Aken captured the 1965 event over Randall and George Hughes.

The Palm Beach round robin plus and minus scoring system will determine the winner. There will be a one-point limitation per hole, as in 1965.

Randall captured the inaugural in 1962 and won again in 1964. Harvey Bostic of Wiltwyck set the tournament record with a 210 aggregate in 1963.

ENYGA "A" Golfers Play at Woodstock

Woodstock Country Club will host the Class A division of the weekly Eastern New York Golf Association tournament Wednesday, Class A in the ENYGA is for Golfers with handicaps from scratch to 8.

Windham Country Club hosts Class B (9-13) and Class C (14 and over).

All three classes will compete at Wiltwyck Country Club on Sept. 7.

Camper Is Threat To Grundy Mark

MONTICELLO — With five weeks of racing left at Monticello Raceway this season and Bobby Camper still red hot, it appears that Jim Grundy's record 70 wins at the mountain plant is in jeopardy. Camper currently has 53 victories and needs only 17 to tie and 18 to break Jim's great effort of last season.

Bob, a 37-year-old native of Bowers Beach, Del., who now calls Monticello, N. Y., home, need only to maintain his terrific pace of the last two weeks to shatter the mark. If he does, he'll finish with approximately 80 triumphs when the season comes to a halt on Sept. 17.

In the last two weeks, the raven-haired sulky specialist logged 11 victories. That's nearly one a day.

Camper did maintain a one-day pace during the racing week of August 1-6, and then won five races last week out of seven programs counting Saturday's double-header. Additionally, he fortified his percentage greatly and through last Friday was batting a terrific .363 to be 14 points in front of Levi Harner.

Barring incidents, Grundy's record seems certain to fail. The class of horses Camper is handling at the Mighty M almost assures him of the wins needed.

Olivets Lead Bridge Tourney

Dr. and Mrs. John Olivet of Kingston posted an excellent 65½ per cent game to win first place in the Glenierie Bridge Club's fractional point tournament.

Runnersup were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pechloff of Kingston with 63 per cent. Other leaders: Miss Dorothy Maroon - Dr. Habeeb Maroon, Kingston, 59½ per cent; Joseph Zahltla, Hyde Park, and L. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, 56 per cent.

A fractional point game is scheduled this evening at 7:30 at the Elks lodge in Kingston. All bridge players are invited.

Davis Beats Weight; Reports at Slim 283

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Davis, the New York Giants' massive tackle, weighs a svelte 283 pounds today and Jeff Smith, a rookie linebacker from Southern California, couldn't be happier about it.

Smith won a $13 Guess the Girth pool that the Giants got up when Davis visited their National Football League camp last month en route to the College All Star Game and weighed in at a chubby 319 pounds.

Coach Alie Sherman was visibly shaken at the sight of the promising youngster from Los Angeles State and ordered him to follow a strict diet. The pool among the players, on what weight Davis would get down to, followed and Smith's 285 was the winner.

Teams With Peay
Davis turned out to be a winner too. He and Francis Peay of Nebraska, another All Star Game returnee, went all the way at the offensive tackle spots in Saturday night's 14-7 victory over Atlanta. And both Sherman and quarterback Earl Morrall praised their work.

"For men who had worked out with the club only four days," Sherman said, "they did a good job. They did the best job we've had done so far by anyone in the camp so far."

With the two rookies handling the pass blocking, Morrall completed 20 of 35 passes against Atlanta. The performance of their defensive backfield against New York's air attack may have had something to do with the Falcons' player move Monday.

Falcons Get Gremmlinger
Atlanta acquired veteran defensive back Hank Gremmlinger from Dallas for an undisclosed draft choice. Gremmlinger, starting his 11th season in pro football, had left the Cowboys' training camp earlier over a salary dispute.

Washington moved to bolster its injury-ridden defensive backfield. The Redskins acquired Brig Owens, a rookie from Cincinnati, from Dallas in exchange for a draft choice. Tom Walters, Jim Steffen and Lonnie Sanders are injured, leaving Washington short of safeties and cornerbacks.

Crowd Disagrees But Torres Keeps His Ring Title

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The cheers went to Eddie Cotton, a tough old battler from Seattle, and the jeers fell to the light heavyweight champion Jose Torres.

But it was Torres who headed home to Brooklyn today with his world title intact, after winning a unanimous 15-round decision over 40-year-old Cotton in the Las Vegas Convention Center Monday night.

Ancient Eddie was the sentimental favorite, but a 7-2 underdog, and most of the crowd — it was announced as 4,300 but appeared to be more like 3,300 — thought he had won the championship.

In the dressing room later, Cotton was the picture of dejection and frustration, the latter a characteristic that has been his life of almost 30 years in the fight game.

"I won the fight," said Cotton. "I know I won the fight. There's no doubt in my mind about it. Certainly I'd like to fight him again if he will give me the chance."

Officials Disagree
Ring officials disagreed with Cotton over the outcome. Referee Nate Morgan had it 70-67, and judges Ron Amos and Mike Petrovich had it 69-67 and 68-67, respectively. The Associated Press scored it a draw, 69-69.

Torres, at 30 no younger himself, was less than happy about his performance in a fight which was serious in spots but in which neither inflicted any terrible damage.

"After the second or third round I told my trainer, Johnny Manzanet, 'Don't worry. I'll take this fellow out,'" Torres said.

"But I don't know. I was tight. I went back in and couldn't throw punches. Maybe I wasn't concentrating."

Ferraro Homers In Toledo Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rochester right-hander Tom Phoebus was taking no chances on losing the International League's third no-hitter of the season.

When Jerry Reimer of Buffalo lashed a drive back toward the pitching mound in the seventh and final inning of Monday night's first game at Rochester, Phoebus knocked it down with his bare hand and threw out Reimer to preserve his hitless effort and a 1-0 victory.

The Bisons took the nightcap, also by 1-0, and prevented Rochester from gaining more than one-half game on league-leading Columbus as the Jets took a 6-4 licking from the Toledo Mud Hens that ended an eight-game Columbus winning streak and a 10-game losing string for the Mud Hens.

Jacksonville's Suns broke a four-game losing streak by edging Richmond 2-1 to end the Braves' modest three-game victory string, and the Toronto Maple Leafs slipped past the Syracuse Chiefs by 2-1 in 11 innings.

The no-hitter by Phoebus was the second by a Rochester pitcher in less than a month, since Dave Vineyard had turned in a hitless game against Toledo on July 28. Toledo's Stan Bahndt pitched the other no-hitter, defeating Richmond earlier in the season.

Phoebus walked two and struck out seven. Only three balls were hit out of the infield, and there was just one close play, third baseman Steve Demeter throwing out Larry Himes on a slow grounder in the fifth. The Red Wing came in the fourth on an infield hit, two walks and a grounder.

In the second game, Jim Dufalo checked Rochester on five hits and the Bisons scored their only run on singles by Gus Gil and Teo Acosta sandwiched around a walk.

Ed Rakow allowed just three hits for Toronto as he beat his former Syracuse teammates for the third time. A single, a sacrifice and a pinch-hit single by Jim Russin won it for the Maple Leafs in the 11th.

A two-run homer, his 24th, by Greg Goossen and the six-hit pitching of Craig Anderson produced Jacksonville's victory over Richmond. Anderson, beating the Braves for the third straight time, lost a shutout on Bill Robinson's 17th homer in the sixth.

Frank Fernandez drove in four runs with a pair of homers and Mike Ferraro sent home the other two, one with a homer, as Toledo edged Columbus. Jack Damaska hit a two-run round-tripper for the Jets.

To El Picador Raceway Feature

MONTICELLO — El Picador, an oddly named two-year-old son of Airliner-Sue's Choice, won Monday's feature fourth race at Monticello Raceway in 2:07. But the rugged, chestnut colt didn't win with authority like all 4-5 favorites are supposed to.

In fact, he just did manage to beat the odds on Al Burton's Skeet Time and the only colt up in the last stride.

Bob Camper drove for owner Lee Benson of West Hemstead, New York and left at a moderate clip as Tough Time and driver Howard McCullough led the two-year-old pacers into the first turn. At the eight pole, Bob Campbell took over with Nardin's Knight and immediately gave up the lead to Camper and El Picador.

In posting the victory, El Picador returned $3.80, 2.60 and 2.40 across the board. Nardin's Knight salvaged the third spot over Tough Time.

The daily double was marred by an accident in the second race. Plucky Wick, Bob Campbell driving, fell heavily on the track about 10 feet from the finish line. Amor's Top Brass and driver Russ Dunn ploughed into the fallen horse and were immediately hit from behind by Irish Ranger and Pilot Frank Browner. The impact threw Dunn several feet in the air and out in front of the accident. After several minutes, the horses were untangled and Dunn was taken to the Hospital. Subsequent reports, however, revealed that none of the drivers or horses were injured.

The winner was Cold Spring Pearl and coupled with the winner of the first, Manor Demon, returned $123.20. The winning combination was 4-1.

The twin double returned $561.40. Winning combination was 3-4-4-1 and there were 49 live tickets. The perfect paid $21.20. Winning combination was 1-2. A crowd of 5,381 was on hand to wager $295, 658.

Thurnbow Next For Chuallo

MONTREAL (AP) — George Chuallo, Canadian heavyweight champion from Toronto, and Mel Thurnbow of Paterson, N.J., square off tonight in a scheduled 10-round non-title fight in Montreal.

Thurnbow, a former sparring partner of world champion Cassius Clay and ex-champion Sonny Liston has scored 11 victories, seven by knockouts, in 15 fights.

In his last fight in March, Thurnbow lost a split decision to Cleveland Williams after decking the veteran in the fourth round.

Dick Wiperman of Buffalo, N.Y., fights Ted Fletcher of Niagara Falls, N.Y., in an eight-round heavyweight preliminary. Tony Ventura of Buffalo, N.Y., will meet Bob Croxon of Montreal in a six-rounder.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

MODERN ART—Art should and does reflect the times. Just as painters once chose as their subject portraits of Renaissance princes in shining armor astride their horses, today's artists find in youthful motorcyclists an example of 1966's king of the road. The current and final exhibition of the Woodstock Artists Association is its Recent Work Show and, only coincidentally, includes paintings of two motorcyclists. At Saturday's opening of the annual dinner of the group, which took place at the Tomas Penning estate in High Woods on Aug. 7 and which was the most successful such event to date, will be discussed at the meeting.

Maverick Music Unmatched For Excellence, Says Critic

A pair of concerts worthy of performance in any major recital hall in this country were presented this past weekend at the Maverick Concert Hall. Saturday night a concert that merited an audience of ten fold the number present was given by Dolores Holtz whose feminine appearance belies the strength and command of her playing. Sunday afternoon a group called for some reason the Woodstock Piano Quartet (only Ilse Sass is from this area) gave us the pleasure of hearing that not often heard ensemble of instruments — the piano quartet.

Dolores Holtz is a compelling and sensitive player. The more familiar selections on her heavily romantic program (Schumann Romanze in F minor, Op. 28 No. 2, the Chopin Ballade in A major Opus 47) she imbued with a fresh, thoughtful approach. Her technical command was impressive and especially noticeable in the two most demanding works — the Schumann Etudes Symphonique and the Barber Fugue. Only in the opening Mozart Sonata could one have wished for more delicacy and broader phrasing in her playing. The remainder of her performance (incidentally entirely from memory) was piano playing in a grand manner. Special praise goes to her for not only the inclusion but the selection as concluding work of Samuel Barber's Fuga.

If one is tempted to shy from the mention of a contemporary American work, let him hear the grandness and beauty of this work which we trust will someday become part of the standard piano repertoire. The Ravel Oiseaux Tristes was played in a mystical and haunting manner, not unenhanced by the background chatter of peepers or crickets. If one has not attended an evening Maverick performance, one has not experienced the spell which an open concert (essentially entirely from memory) in the quiet of this wooded area lends to the music. I can think of few more enjoyable ways to spend a summer evening; and when one has an opportunity to hear a concert of such caliber as Saturday night's, surely not even the Barber of Seville should keep one from attending. One hopes that a visit by Miss Holtz will become an annual Maverick occasion and that perhaps next year playing of such beauty and strength will find the larger attendance which it deserves.

Broncos Angle For Gilchrist

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Denver Broncos were reported to be dealing with the Oakland Raiders for a trade for rebellious fullback Cookie Gilchrist.

Bronco Coach Mac Speedie said Monday the American Football League deal "has not been consummated yet and may not be for another couple of days."

The deal reportedly would see Gilchrist traded for a veteran lineman whom Speedie would not identify.

Gilchrist has refused to play for the Broncos this year, turning in a resignation accompanied by a blast at the Denver management for allegedly not trying to produce winning teams.

Raps 14th Homer

TOKYO (AP) — Former major leaguer Daryl Spencer hit his 14th homer of the season for the only run of the game as the Hankyu Braves shut out the Nankai Hawks 1-0 in a Japanese league baseball game Monday night.

China Missionary Will Speak Here Sunday Morning

THE REV. W. E. SCHUBERT

"Communists and Christians in China" will be the topic of the Rev. William E. Schubert, Methodist missionary, at Overlook Methodist Church, Woodstock, Sunday.

The guest speaker, now on furlough, has accepted an invitation to speak locally this weekend during the absence of the regular minister, the Rev. James W. Cook. The Rev. Mr. Schubert is a graduate of Southern California and Drew Theological seminaries and is a member of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Church.

He is presently residing in New Jersey but has had a wide ministry of 21 months under the Chinese Communists. During this period, he conducted Chinese language evangelism in the Chinese language; trained Chinese preachers and carried on an active program in which he used and published Chinese literature. He has published seven books in Chinese and three in Japanese, the latest being "Christ's Program for a Perfect World." This fall, the Rev. Mr. Schubert will journey to Japan to continue his work in the mission field there.

The worship service at which he will speak Sunday will be held at 10 a. m., as are all services during the summer months, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Saratoga Race To Tainted Lady

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Bohemia Stable's Cestrum was favored to win the featured 6-furlong event for fillies and mares today at Saratoga Race Track.

Among the seven other entries were J. D. Wimpfheimer's Petite Rouge, Pine Tree Stable's Gee Judge and N. P. Bate's Triple Brook, all highly regarded by precursors.

Monday, Tainted Lady won the $20,000 added Adirondack Allowance by three quarters over Intriguing. Silver True was third.

The 2-year-old filly covered the 6 furlongs in 1:12 3-5 and returned $36.40. It was the first stakes victory of her career.

Grateful Patient Gets Point Across, Sign Must Go

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP) — The sounds of the world barely existed for Harry Michels for the last 45 years. When an operation brought back his hearing he wanted the world to know.

He bought space on a billboard to thank his doctor in letters as big as his gratitude.

But a group of doctors found the sign "highly unethical," and threatened to bring Michels' doctor before a judicial committee of the county medical society if it did not come down.

Michels, who intended the sign partly as a surprise for his physician, Dr. Floyd M. Gusack of Plainfield, commented, "I never dreamed the doctor would get into trouble. But I think I got my point across anyway."

Aware that doctors are not ethically allowed to advertise, Michels said, "This is different, it's me advertising."

The sign comes down today, with its message: "Dr. Floyd Gusack. . . I will be forever grateful for your medical skills. . . Harry Michels."

Honor Buffalo Area Man as 1966 Fire Vol

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Stephen R. Bucki of the Buffalo suburb of Clarence was honored today as New York State's volunteer fireman of the year for rescuing a 5-year-old boy from a flaming house.

Bucki, corresponding secretary of the Harris Hill Volunteer Fire Department, was cited at the annual convention of the Firemen's Association of the State of New York.

On March 25, 1965, he dashed into the burning and smoke-filled home of Anthony Connor and saved Connor's son, Anthony, who had collapsed on a bedroom floor.

The five-day convention continues to Friday.

Two Uninjured As Small Plane Is Forced Down

SCITUATE, R.I. (AP) — Calvin Dence of Camden, N.Y., and Van Chapman of Williamstown, N.Y., were uninjured Monday when they made a forced landing on Route 14 here in a two-seat single-engine airplane.

Police said the small craft was forced down by fog and adverse weather conditions. The plane, also reported undamaged, was registered to Roderick Foote of Rome, N.Y.

Police said the men were flying from Nantucket, Mass., to New York City.

Miniskirts a Peril

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP) — Driving examiner Bill Shimm issued a plea yesterday to girls not to turn up for their driving tests in miniskirts.

Shimm, who is just retiring at 61 after 27 years of testing drivers on the island, said miniskirts were an extra peril for the examiners.

"An attractive pair of legs reaching down for the foot controls from a miniskirt is liable to take an examiner's eye off the road," he said.

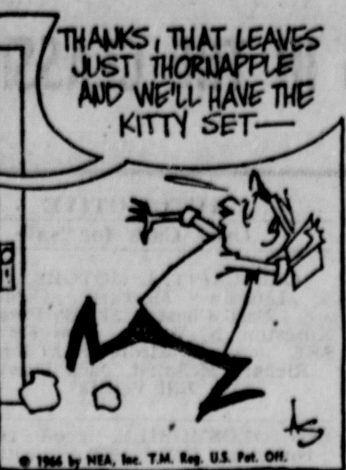

WATCH OUT FOR THE OTHER GUY

Just being in the right isn't enough. Nearly half the drivers in fatal collisions are in the right. So keep an eye open for trouble at all times, from all sides. Drive defensively—as if your life depended on it. (It does.)

Want Open Housing Plan to Expand Demonstration In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP) — Strategists of the civil rights fair housing movement will send eight platoons of marchers into previously picketed areas today in a continued expansion of demonstrations.

The Rev. James Bevel told a rally of 500 civil rights workers Monday night that three march units would go to Jefferson Park, a Northwest Side neighborhood where demonstrators paraded, prayed and sang Sunday under the protection of 250 policemen.

Five groups will picket at downtown locations including the Chicago Real Estate Board. A vigil Wednesday afternoon in drizzling rain at the Real Estate Board drew little attention.

Today's marches are scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. EDT. Other downtown targets are the Chicago Housing Authority, the Cook County Public Aid Office, City Hall, and a savings and loan association.

Albert A. Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, said at Monday night's assembly: "We will not stop marching because verbal promises have been made. The marches and demonstrations will continue until Negroes can move into housing wherever they choose."

Civic leaders continued plans for a meeting on housing Wednesday. The American Nazi party, whose rally Sunday triggered a battle between white residents and police at Marquette Park, said they would hold a counterdemonstration at today's protests and future demonstrations.

SAUGERTIES NEWS Plastic Bags Jam Sewer System Opposition Against Dumping Heard at Village Board Meet

A complaint against dumping on West Bridge Street, notices of the arrival of a third chlorinator for the local sewage system and a discussion about purchasing new pistols for the police department highlighted the meeting of the Saugerties Village Board Monday evening.

A local couple, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Viecevic, appeared before the board to voice their opposition to what they had thought were plans by the Village Street Department to utilize a lot directly across the street from property owned by the Viecevic's on West Bridge Street for dumping purposes. It was their understanding, they said, that a lot owned by Mrs. George Campbell there would be used by street workers for dumping street sweepings and other refuse and they were unalterably opposed to the supposed plan.

By way of explanation, Mayor Cornelius Cox said the Village of Saugerties has been trying to buy other property in order to gain access to the ravine in question, which runs from the Campbell lot to the rear of buildings on Partition Street. He said that intensive efforts are still being made to purchase land or gain access through right of way to the ravine from either Jane or Partition Streets. It is the intention of the Board to fill in the ravine, starting in the rear of Partition Street, in order to cover this area where a considerable amount of dumping has been going on for a lengthy period of years.

Submitting a report for his department, Sewer Commissioner Gregory A. Mulstay noted that a third chlorinator has arrived and is now in operation here. There is now one chlorinator in each disposal plant, he said, an important fact in that if it ever becomes mandatory for the village to undertake secondary sewage treatment in the future, there will be sufficient chlorinators to handle such a system.

Mulstay also advised trustees that plant operator George Gardner is currently on vacation and, during his absence, Edward Haines will be in charge of the local sewage system. The commissioner and all Board members voiced considerable concern about a problem that is becoming serious locally. Many Saugerties residents are evidently getting rid of the plastic bags used to protect dry cleaned garments and other items by flushing them into the sewage system locally. So many of these bags have gone down the drain that a serious accumulation has been noted. Experts fear they will have a damaging effect on the digestors in the system which may or may not be able to disintegrate them.

In order to avoid what might become a very serious problem to local sewage service, the public is asked to refrain completely from flushing bags of this type into the sewage system. They should be handled as rubbish, placed in garbage cans.

Ten years ago, a long-simmering Near Eastern crisis exploded in open warfare. The many-sided Suez crisis of July-December, 1956, threatened the peace of the entire world, shook the United Nations, and turned allies against each other within an East-West confrontation. It took years to repair the damage, physical and political. The aftereffects are felt today in the world's power relationships.

Israel, fearing growing Arab strength, seized the canal opportunity to launch a preventive strike against Egypt Oct. 29. Israeli forces quickly overran the Sinai Peninsula to within sight of the canal.

Britain and France promptly launched their own assault. The Union Jack fluttered over Port Said—the French occupied neighboring Port Fuad. But not for long. Russia threatened war, the United States denounced the attack and the Anglo-French force withdrew in December. Israel also called back its troops. A United Nations force moved in to guard the edgy peace. It is still on duty.

Egyptian President Nasser provided the spark on July 26, 1956. Reacting angrily to withdrawal of U.S. aid for the Aswan high Dam on the Nile River, he decreed nationalization of the Suez Canal, then owned by a French-organized company in which the British government held controlling interest.

One of the world's busiest waterways, the Canal at times resembles rush hour on a freeway. Confounding predictions that they would not be able to run the complicated operation themselves, the Egyptians had the canal back in business. They have since improved it—widening and deepening the channel—and increased toll revenues, to $180 million last year. More than 20,000 ships a year now use the canal.

Father Finds Body Of Son Killed In Upstate Crash

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — A father enroute to work found the body of his son early today after the son's automobile had been struck by a train near St. Lawrence River village.

State Police said Harold Snyder of Massena was driving over railroad tracks used by the Canadian National Railroad when he spotted a wrecked vehicle and found the body of his son, Roger E. Snyder, 21. The younger Snyder, whose wife is expecting a child, was last seen at about 9 p.m. Monday. He and his wife live here near the railroad crossing. The elder Snyder also lives nearby. Troopers said four trains had passed the crossing during the night. There were no reports of accidents.

The auto was thrown onto an embankment about 45 feet from the crossing. Snyder's decapitated body was outside the car. The Snyders live on Smith Road.

Upstater Leads Flight in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Maj. Kenneth B. Shatzer of Tonawanda, N.Y., led a flight of U.S. Air Force AOne-E skyraider pilots over North Viet Nam's Panhandle Monday and reported fourteen buildings destroyed and two others damaged in a supply area 42 miles southeast of Dong Hoi.

The flight led by the 29-year-old major also set off two secondary explosions, an indication that fuel or ammunition dumps were hit.

Warren Goes Fishing

DRIGGS, Idaho (AP) — U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren was out of his judicial robes and into his fishing clothes today on southeast Idaho's Teton River.

The chief justice and a group of friends arrived at a guest lodge on the western slopes of the Grand Teton near Driggs Monday to try their luck at fly-fishing for trout.

More than 50 amateur and professional artists from the Saugerties area entered the competition, each showing one or more paintings. Dispute Blocks Contract Talks For GE Workers

NEW YORK (AP) — A dispute between the General Electric Co. and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) Monday blocked a start of contract negotiations affecting 79,400 of G's employees.

Insists on Blackout
Plans to start formal bargaining collapsed, a company spokesman said, when the IUE insisted on a news blackout covering both the holding of the talks and identification of the union representatives participating.

IUE Conference Board Chairman John H. Callahan set the conditions in a meeting with Philip D. Moore, the company's chief negotiator, last Wednesday.

Callahan, the company said, contended that publicity might compromise the union's case in IUE's court challenge of the company's refusal to bargain with a "coalition" of unions headed by the IUE.

The conditions set by Callahan were rejected by Moore. And the start of bargaining was postponed pending announcement of Federal Judge Marvin Frankel's decision, which is expected this week.

Pact Expires Oct. 2
The IUE contract with GE is scheduled to expire at midnight Oct. 2.

Weeks ago, the dispute over union "coalition" representatives prevented the holding of planned pre-negotiation talks between GE and the IUE.

The absence from the city of IUE officials attending the union's international convention in Miami Beach Sept. 5-9 may further reduce the remaining time for negotiations between the court decision and the contract expiration.

The IUE-GE contract generally sets the pattern for more than 100 other unions having contracts with GE and for contracts between other electrical manufacturers and various unions.

The GE-IUE contract covers employees in major plants in Schenectady and Syracuse, N.Y.; Pittsfield and Lynn, Mass.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Philadelphia; Louisville, Ky.; Bridgeport, Conn., and Cleveland.

giving up. Regarded as front runners are Mayne Miller, a Casper attorney, and Al Christian, once state director of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Former Rep. William Henry Harrison, defeated by Roncillo two years ago, is seeking the Republican nomination but has opposition from Roy Peek, Riverton newspaper publisher. Harrison is a grandson of President Benjamin Harrison.

Montana also elects a senator this year but incumbent Sen. Lee Metcalf is unopposed for Democratic renomination and Gov. Tim M. Babcock has no opposition for the Republican spot.

With two years to go on his term as governor, Babcock will continue in that office if he omits in the fall election in his try for the Senate.

Montana's two House members — Democrat Arnold Olsen and Republican James F. Battin — are unopposed for renomination.

There is a contest between Richard Smiley, operator of a Bozeman radio station, and Edward Carty, a Butte miner, for the Republican nomination to run against Olsen.

Richard Melcher, a state senator, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination to challenge Battin.

Governor Signs

rector of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, Eric Hemphill, and the Agency's legal counsel, S. James Matthews. Both of the local officials have praised Assemblyman Wilson for his efforts on behalf of the Urban Renewal Agency and the city in connection with legislation affecting the city's urban renewal project.

Allows Direct Dealing
According to Assemblyman Wilson, the new law will allow the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency to deal directly with the New York State Department of Public Works on the sale and transfer of property within the Urban Renewal area for use by the State in the construction of the proposed Kingston Arterial Route, as well as the approach road to the new bridge which will be built over the Rondout Creek.

The Assemblyman pointed out that part of the arterial route will pass directly through the urban renewal area, and that many delays would have been caused if the newly enacted legislation had not been approved. Wilson noted that under the old laws, and urban renewal properties which might be needed by the State for highway purposes would first have had to be transferred to the City of Kingston, and then the city in turn would have had to negotiate with the Department of Public Works on the final sale of the land.

The new law will eliminate these unnecessary delays, and allow both the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency and the Department of Public Works to act far more quickly on the final planning of the long awaited arterial route through the city, and the new Rondout Creek bridge.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market plunged to new lows for the year in fairly heavy trading early this afternoon.

The market sank from the start as discouraged selling — mainly in small lots — broke down prices in most major sections of the list.

No immediate news was linked with the decline. Early in the session the Dow Jones industrial average broke below its 1966 closing low of 832.57 made on Aug. 2. This triggered additional selling.

Trading for the first two hours totaled more than three million shares compared with 2.43 million for the like period Monday.

The Dow Jones industrials at noon were down 8.91 at 825.94. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, which made a new closing low Monday, was down 2.2 to 238.0 at noon. Industrials were off 4.3, rails 8 and utilities 3.

The airlines—despite expected settlement of the strike—and other fast-stepping glamor issues were hurt the worst. Eastern Air Lines lost 3; United 2; American and Pan American more than a point each.

IBM lost 5; Xerox 4; General Electric 3; Zenith and Raytheon 2 each. General Motors, down more than a point, and Du Pont, off almost a point, made new lows for the year.

Nickerson . . .

district in 1949. He was re-elected twice.

Howard J. Samuels, millionaire industrialist of Canandaigua, whose support is largely in upstate counties.

Kennedy is a pivotal factor in the political jockeying because he has steadily widened his influence in the state Democratic party since he burst upon the state scene in 1964 — giving up his Massachusetts voting residence and his Virginia domicile, becoming a New York resident and getting elected senator.

Nickerson, who announced his withdrawal at a hastily called news conference, was asked whether he was disappointed that Kennedy had not spoken out for him.

After a pause, Nickerson said slowly: "I'm disappointed whenever anyone doesn't support me. So I'm disappointed."

Roosevelt, at a news conference before Nickerson's withdrawal, urged O'Connor to withdraw from the race. Roosevelt drew from the O'Connor a "sure-fire loser" in the November election.

Roosevelt said it would take "considerable effort" by Kennedy to stop O'Connor from winning the nomination.

He said O'Connor cannot win support from the Liberal party, which has talked of running a gubernatorial candidate of its own. Roosevelt said: "I don't think any Democrat can win the general election without the Liberal party."

Puts O'Connor Total at 575
The Liberal party, which exists only in New York State, usually polls about 300,000 votes, and can decide a close contest between the two major parties. It has supported Democratic candidates for governor since 1942.

A spokesman for O'Connor, former district attorney of Queens County, said Monday night that he now has 375 of the 575 delegate votes needed to win nomination.

O'Connor, Monday night picked up 37 of the 49 delegate votes of suburban Westchester County. Nine delegates went for Samuels and three abstained at a caucus in White Plains. The delegation does not have the unit rule, under which all its votes would go to the candidate with the majority. One delegate told newsmen that those at the caucus knew Nickerson had withdrawn, and his name was not brought up.

A spokesman for the Westchester Democratic County Committee said that about 4 p.m. Monday the committee chairman, William F. Luddy, "as a matter of courtesy," telephoned John F. English, Nickerson's campaign manager, and told him it appeared that the Westchester delegation would go heavily for O'Connor.

According to the spokesman, English replied: "Well, it looks like the ball game is over."

Nickerson was asked at his news conference what convinced him there was no hope for his candidacy.

"The results in Suffolk were, I think, very damaging," a very serious blow," he replied.

Delegates in Suffolk County, next to Nickerson's Nassau County, voted 27 to 7 last Friday night to back O'Connor.

Nickerson said he was releasing the 1% delegates he claimed were pledged to him.

Neither O'Connor nor Roosevelt would comment on Nickerson's withdrawal.

Samuels said in his comment: "From the beginning, I have fought for the nomination as an underdog. I knew it would be uphill all the way. I am in this all the way — and I expect to receive the nomination."

RFK to Keep Hands Off Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., announced today he does not plan to support or oppose any individual candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York prior to the party's state convention next month.

Kennedy's statement followed a breakfast meeting here with Frank D. O'Connor, president of the New York City Council and a front runner for the nomination.

"On the basis of the information I have been able to gather over the last several weeks," Kennedy said in his statement, "I am convinced that a number of distinguished Democrats can defeat Gov. (Nelson A.) Rockefeller."

"It is the responsibility therefore of the convention delegates to make the assessment as to which candidate combines the qualities to best serve the state and attract the broadest coalition of support to win in November."

Kennedy was not available to the press for comment on the conversation between him and O'Connor at their breakfast at an undisclosed place. A Kennedy aide said O'Connor returned directly to New York after the meeting.

Road Slaughter
Rogers had risen from a porch chair to call his grandson to dinner.

The doomed car rammed into the front porch, into the chair where Rogers seconds earlier had been relaxing. The car was totally demolished, and Cornell and his wife mortally injured.

They were the 40th and 41st persons killed this year in road accidents in Ulster County. The 40th traffic death in 1965 occurred Oct. 30, when Robert J. Wyllie of Woodstock was killed in a crash on Route 212 in Saugerties. Marjory Autry, 4, became 1965's 41st fatality when she was crushed by her father's truck in Highland on Nov. 12.

The twin deaths Monday night were the tenth in Ulster County as the result of traffic accidents this month, and the seventh in five days.

Otto Rohmann, 57, who became the county's 39th traffic death of the year Monday morning, died when the car in which he was riding skidded out of control on Glasco Turnpike. Town of Saugerties and crashed into a utility pole.

His wife suffered multiple fractures of the entire body. Miss Steffens sustained fractures of the skull, right shoulder, right clavicle, multiple abrasions and lacerations and possible internal injuries. Kingston Hospital authorities noted no improvements in their conditions over yesterday.

Conditions of Others
Still in serious condition at Kingston Hospital today was Mrs. Alice Sara Stalock, 51, of Long Beach who was injured in an accident Aug. 7 on Route 9W, Glenelg which claimed the lives of three teenagers. Listed as satisfactory was Donald S. Warlock, 24, New Paltz, who was riding with Mrs. Stalock at the time of the accident.

In fair condition at Benedictine Hospital today were Miss Theresa A. Raskoski, 19 of 501 Delaware Avenue and Miss Ann Noble, 19 of 133 Foxhall Avenue. Both women were injured in the Aug. 7 mishap.

Rohmann, a resident of High Woods, Town of Saugerties for the past 10 years, was manager of the Kirkland Hotel, Kingston. Surviving in addition to his wife, the former Elizabeth Stalock, are a brother and sister in Germany and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Loni Hepinstall of High Woods.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Hartley and Lamoree Inc. Funeral Home, Main and Second Streets, Saugerties.

Mink Stole Stolen
Local police were notified Monday night that the Oscar B. London home, 42 Linderman Avenue, had been entered while the Londons were away and a mink stole was taken. It was indicated that entrance was gained by tampering with a lock. Value of the stole was not noted.

Struck Trib . . .

nett in 1835. Six years later Horace Greeley's Tribune was born. Separately, and later as the merged Herald Tribune, the papers were home to some of the greatest names of American journalism: Mark Twain, Richard Harding Davis, Henry J. Raymond and Charles A. Dana.

In modern times, the Herald Tribune's columnists included Art Buchwald, John O'Hara, Walter Kerr, Walter Lippmann and Red Smith.

The last of the liberal Republican Herald Tribune's owners was John Hay Whitney, who bought the paper in 1958.

Whitney brought innovations in format and makeup which attracted the attention of the entire newspaper industry but circulation declined. In 1965, the paper's last full year, it was 303,173 daily and 350,876 Sunday.

John Hay Whitney, publisher of the Herald Tribune and former U.S. ambassador to England, said he would continue to publish the Paris edition of the paper. He recently sold a 45 percent share in the overseas edition to the Washington Post.

Meyer said the folding of the Tribune was the direct result of the breakdown Aug. 4 of negotiations between the publishers and the Pressmen's Union, the only one of 10 unions which has not come to terms.

Thomas M. Laura, Mailers Union president who acted as spokesman for all the newspaper unions, said:

"I think Meyer is wrong to accuse the unions. You have to look at the position of both sides in this dispute."

Meyer said the Herald Tribune's end would mean a loss of 800 jobs.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the state would set up special services to help Herald Tribune employees find new jobs.

Machinists Get
whom the headquarters had addresses — an estimated 28,000. After news of the new settlement reached Congress Monday, the House Rules Committee delayed action on a Senate-passed resolution to force the strikers to return to the jobs they left July 8.

No Action Due Now
No further congressional action on the measure is expected pending the outcome of the union vote scheduled to be held simultaneously across the country at 3 p.m. EDT Friday.

Results of the vote are to be telephoned or telegraphed to union headquarters here by 6 p.m. EDT Friday.

Th strike — believed to be the longest, biggest and most costly in airline annals — technically would end if the union members ratify the settlement Friday.

However, planes probably would not start moving before Saturday and full service would not be restored before early next week.

$333 Million Loss
The five truck airlines normally handle about 60 percent of the nation's air traffic. They have lost an estimated $333 million in revenue.

The strikers, plus another 35,000 to 50,000 employees laid off by the truck lines, have lost about $64 million in wages.

The proposed settlement is considerably higher than the administration's 3.2 percent anti-inflation wage guidelines.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., suggested that the agreement — estimated at 8 percent — be regarded as an epitaph for the administration guidelines.

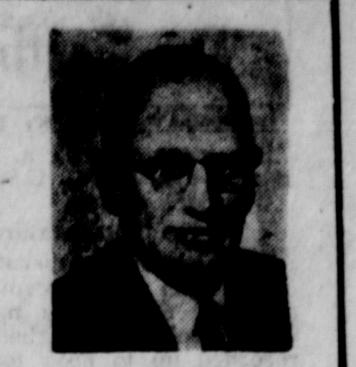

But when Johnson announced the July 29 agreement, estimated as more than a 6 percent increase, he termed it noninflationary and said increased worker productivity and high profits in the industry made possible the 72-cent boost without higher air fares.

Growth Potential Seen In Florida Drug Chain

Q—"Friends bought Eckerd Drugs of Florida before last year's split. They now consider it a good buy for me. I would appreciate your comment." C. C.

A—I am inclined to agree with your friends if you wish to buy a speculative growth stock. Eckerd appears to be a well-managed operation which benefits from repeat sales of many varied items.

In the report for fiscal 1966, ended March 31, sales of some $31.7 million had risen 37 percent over fiscal 1965's record of $23 million. Net earnings of $2.03 a share were up 33 percent, continuing the year-by-year climb from 35 cents in 1961, adjusted for last year's 100 percent stock dividend. Cash dividend was recently increased from 40 to 50 cents annually.

Should you decide to follow your friends' suggestion, you should keep in mind that the amount of Eckerd's floating stock is limited, and likewise the number of stockholders. This suggests rather volatile price action should earnings potential attract a larger following. Currently trading near its 1966 low.

Eckerd reached an all-time high of 38 1/2 earlier this year.

A—Only two of the nine issues are mentioned in my files. Continental Enterprises and Custer Channel Wing were recently bid on the over-the-counter at less than a dollar. MIGs Move Deeper in Battle Zone been reported since noon Monday.

Air Force B52 bombers struck today at suspected Viet Cong storage sites and troop concentrations 75 miles northwest of Saigon in War Zone C near the Cambodian border.

In the dogfight, the Navy planes from the carrier Oriskany were attacking a North Vietnamese train about 20 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa when the MIGs pounced on them. The spokesman said the Navy bombers damaged four boxcars before they left the scene.

He said the Navy planes did not fire on the MIGs. The encounter lasted only a few minutes.

In Monday's raids the spokesman said, Navy planes scored destructive hits on two oil dumps and damaged others.

Hit Oil Dumps
Skyhawks from the Oriskany hit the Tuc Tran petroleum area three miles southeast of Thanh Hoa. The Navy said pilots scored direct hits with 500-pound and 1,000-pound bombs. Flames leaped 300 feet, and heavy black smoke rose 6,000 feet and was visible for 30 miles, pilots reported.

Another flight of Skyhawks from the Oriskany struck an oil storage area northwest of Hai Phong. Pilots reported they bombed produced a large orange fireball that rose 1,500 feet and a pall of dark gray smoke covered the area.

Overall in the raids Monday, pilots reported they destroyed or damaged 39 barges, 12 bridges, 65 military storage buildings, 19 trucks and four anti-aircraft gun positions.

Issues Orders
In another development, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, American military commander in Vietnam, ordered all his commanders to take all possible steps to cut Vietnamese civilian casualties to a minimum.

Westmoreland's directive followed a series of mistaken U. S. or allied bombings on Vietnamese villages during the past week.

Since last Tuesday, three incidents of apparently mistaken attacks on villages were reported. In a fourth incident, U. S. Air Force planes attacked U. S. Coast Guard patrol boat in the village incidents, a total of 31 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 132 were wounded.

The moon weighs 81 billion tons.

Coag Attacks
To the south, Viet Cong guerrillas attacked the command post of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division near Lai Khe, about 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Viet Cong lobbed an estimated 82 rounds of 81mm mortar shells and small-arms fire on the command post for nearly two hours Monday night and early today. The 1st Division troops countered with mortar, artillery and small-arms fire. A U. S. spokesman said casualties were light. Enemy casualties were not known.

The U. S. Command also disclosed a new operation called Toledo has been under way since Aug. 10 in Phuoc Tuy, Long Khanh and Binh Tuy provinces. American and South Vietnamese troops are sweeping an area heavily hit last week by B52 bombers 45 miles northeast of Vung Tau.

Over South Viet Nam, American pilots flew 400 sorties Monday and said they destroyed or damaged 410 enemy huts, bunkers and other fortified positions. South Vietnamese pilots flew an additional 244 sorties.

The U.S. Command, in a delayed report, announced the loss Sunday of a third U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief over North Viet Nam. The pilot was listed as missing. The spokesman said he bailed out but could not be rescued.

The plane went down 110 miles northwest of Vinh. It was the 340th loss since the war over the north began two years ago.

The North Viet Nam News Agency claimed another U.S. plane was shot down Monday while on a mission to strafe a "populated area" near Hanoi. There was no confirmation of the claim in Saigon.

Monsoon rains drenched the battleground in the Ia Drang Valley near Pleiku in the central highlands, where elements of the U.S. 1st Cavalry (Airmobile) Division, the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and South Korean troops were deployed against three regiments of North Vietnamese regulars.

The last contact with the enemy was by the cavalry about mid-day Monday after the Communists broke off a 24-hour battle and avoided encirclement by the Americans.

Marvella Calls For Rainmaker In Dry Counties

Joseph A. Marvella, Liberal candidate for State Senator, today called for immediate action by the State of New York to hire rainmakers which would be sent to Dutchess and Ulster Counties to help out county farmers plagued by a five-year drought.

Marvella, who personally toured the counties on Sunday and met with several farmers, said "our county farmer, especially in the central and southern sections, have been needing rain for the growing of good crops too long."

He said the farmer "needs help," and "immediate help," before he is forced to close his business.

"Today's farmer is more important than any 12 persons walking our streets today, the candidate for State Senator said, and we have to 'go out of our way' to help him."

"The recent rainfall was not enough by far, he added, and the rainfall the last two days was a mere drop in the bucket. The streams and farm ponds are still near record lows, and I believe the politicians in Albany do not realize our problems here."

"This is why I want to be your senator," Marvella said, to serve the farmer as well as the homeowner."

Kenya Warns Asians
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Kenya's government news agency and radio have warned the country's 180,000 Asians that the government may change its policy towards them and follow a less generous way of thinking.

The statements, made Monday, commented on the deportation of six Asians accused of having shown themselves by act and speech to be disloyal toward Kenya. This brought to nine the Asians deported during the past week.

"The whole Asian community today stands indicted by the actions of some of their members," the statement said.

The statement, most bitter yet launched against the community which controls much of Kenya's commerce, said "the Asian community would do well to heed the warning light now."

Colonel Fired For Picture OK In Walker Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Force colonel has been fired from his post for approving a commercial picture taking mission June 8 in which ace test pilot Joseph S. Walker and another flier were killed.

Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown, announcing the disciplinary action Monday, also said written reprimands have been or will be given to three other officials involved in the mission resulting in the crash of the $500-million XB70 and an F104 chase plane in California.

In a memorandum to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Brown said the photographic mission was of "questionable propriety" and did not follow the letter and spirit of existing guidelines.

Besides Walker, who was piloting the F104, Maj. Carl S. Cross, co-piloting the XB70, also was killed. Walker was holder of the world's altitude and speed records.

Brown said Col. Albert W. Cate has been relieved of his duties as deputy for systems tests in the XB70 programs. An Air Force spokesman said Cate was reassigned to the Contract Management Division of the Air Force Systems Command at the Los Angeles Air Force Station.

Receiving the reprimands are Col. Joe Cotton, test force director; Col. James G. Smith, information director for the Air Force Flight Test Center at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.; and John S. McCollom, director of research vehicles in the Air Force Systems Command at Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio. None was available for comment.

One purpose of the flight was to fulfill a picture making request by General Electric, which made the engines of both the XB70 and the F104. Also in the formation were an Air Force T38 acting as a chase aircraft, a Navy F4 and an Air Force F5. The pictures were being taken by a Lear jet contracted by General Electric.

FCC Upholds WGHQ on Recent Primary Editorial

The Federal Communications Commission has given radio station WGHQ of Kingston a "clean bill of health" in the recent controversy raised by Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, (D), over an editorial of the air which was broadcast from the station just prior to the recent primary. In an editorial of the air Harry M. Thayer, manager of the local station, gave support to one of the Republican candidates running for party position of Congressman in this district.

Objection to the editorial was made to the FCC by John W. Logan, district representative for Congressman Resnick, who contended that the station had engaged into partisan political activities and that the provisions of the "equal opportunity" rule had been violated. Logan charged that an offer had been made to transport voters to the Primary polls and Democratic voters had not been offered the same opportunity.

The FCC, under date of Aug. 10, to Logan states that the "equal opportunities" rule was not violated and that the station was acting within its rights.

Thayer said he had nothing to add to the statement of the FCC as contained in the letter to Logan.

The statement of the FCC, written by Ben F. Waple, FCC secretary, to Logan, outlines the provisions of the "equal opportunities" regulation and the case as follows:

"This refers to your letter of July 1, 1966, in which you complain of the partisan political activities of Station WGHQ, Kingston, N. Y., in connection with the station's editorial support of one of the candidates for Congress in the Republican Primary and its broadcast offer to secure free transportation for Republican voters and not Democratic voters.

Pursuant to our usual procedure, your complaint was brought to the attention of Station WGHQ with the request that they submit a response thereto. The license submitted a response on July 20, 1966, a copy of which has been furnished you.

Since the "equal opportunities" provisions of Section 315 of the Communications Act apply only where a candidate himself uses the station's facilities, the editorial by WGHQ in support of Mr. Aldrich, a candidate in the Republican Primary, would not entitle you to "equal opportunities" under Section 315. We should also point out for your general information that the Primary Elections of one party are considered separated from the primary elections of the other parties as far as "equal opportunities" under Section 315 are concerned. Thus, even if there were a use by one of the candidates in the Republican Primary, you as a candidate in the Democratic Primary would not be entitled to equal opportunities. (See Rules Nos. 3 and 4, in Part V. A. of the enclosed 315 Primer).

With regard to the station's obligations under the "fairness doctrine," (see enclosed "fairness doctrine") it appears from their response that they have acted reasonably in the matter. Accordingly, further action by the Commission does not appear to be warranted.

Fish Says Resnick Follows Freeman Inflation View

POUGHKEEPSIE — Hamilton Fish Jr., Republican candidate for Congress, today slashed hard at Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick's Sunday statement that there is "no inflation."

"In stating areas 'no inflation' Resnick is flying in the face of a truth every housewife in the district knows," Fish said. "By his callous attitude he is showing contempt for, and indifference to, the people of this district."

According to Fish, the Democratic Congressional incumbent in his Sunday statement, is apparently taking this stand recently outlined by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman when he advised Democratic Congressmen to "slip, slide and duck" when the question of inflation comes up.

"Resnick followed that typical Democratic advice to the letter," Fish said.

"First, he said there is no inflation. That's the slip. Then he said that anyway, it's the fault of business, not government. That's the slide.

"Finally, Resnick made it clear that neither he nor the 2 1/2 to 1 Democratic Congress is going to do anything about inflation. That's the duck.

"As inflation is strictly due to policies on the federal level, I feel the Democratic incumbent shows a shockingly callous attitude towards this serious subject. As every housewife, wage earner and the elderly on fixed incomes know, inflation is here. I am sure they also know that every Republican effort and suggestion aimed at curbing this worst of all taxes has been turned down by the Democratic administration, with the full backing of our Democratic rubber-stamp Congressman, Fish concluded.

N.J. Singles Out Three Suspects in 6 Shore Murders

MOWELL TOWNSHIP, N. J. (AP) — Police have singled out at least three suspects in the murders of six women on the Jersey Shore in the last 11 months. One is in jail, another committed suicide and a third has yet to be arrested.

Could Be Linked

Authorities say they are seeking separate killers in each murder, although they admit the cases are similar and some of them could be linked.

Five of the victims were fatally beaten on the head, four were teen-agers and three were found nude.

The suspect in the latest killing is Edward A. Lynch, 34, of Silverton, N.J., a bartender, pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of shooting Dorothy McKenzie of Toms River twice in the head.

Mrs. McKenzie, 45, a mother of four, was found dead in her car between a large diner and a woods off Route 9 last Wednesday.

William J. Nuneviller, 35, of Philadelphia was charged with aiding and abetting in the woman's murder.

Both men were ordered held in Monmouth County Jail without bail pending a preliminary hearing August 29.

Describe Progress

Detectives in the other cases described their progress this way: — Jackson Township — Before officers could question their "prime suspect," Ivan John Rule, the 18-year-old youth was found hanged by his belt in his Edison Township jail cell. Edison police said they arrested Rule on a state parole violation. But Jackson Township authorities had a 13-state alarm out for him since May.

Police Commissioner Ira Tannenbaum said the victim, 16-year-old Catherine Baker of Edison, had written that Rule threatened to kill her if she dated anyone else. She was found dead in Jackson Township March 16. Rule hanged himself Friday, three hours after he was arrested.

Holmdel — County and state detectives indicated they had a suspect in mind in the rape-slaying of Mary Ann Klinsky, 18, of West Keansburg. Although authorities would not be pinned down, they said they thought they knew their man and were gathering more evidence.

Wall Township — Two composite drawings of men wanted for questioning in the Donna DeRier murder have been circulated throughout the state. Miss DeRier was stripped and bludgeoned to death Aug. 4 in Allaire State Park. Among 500 persons questioned, several said they saw a mysterious hitchhiker catch a ride at the very spot where German Shepherd dogs lost a scent they were following. From their descriptions police drafted a portrait.

New Composite Made

Another composite was made of a man who molested an Ocean Township woman six days after Miss DeRier's death. Miss DeRier, 19, of Hawthorne had been living in Manasquan for the summer.

Colts Neck — A blank. State police say they have no major leads or suspects in the death of Joanne Fantazier, 17, of Perth Amboy. The girl was found dead on a frozen pond, beaten on the head.

Neptune — Possibly another blank, but maybe not. Police said they had a major break in the March 3 murder of Geraldine Hopson, 39, who was found raped and beaten about 100 feet behind her home here. However, they said, no suspect has yet been named. Mrs. Hopson was the only Negro among the victims. She was separated from her husband, who lived in Newark.
